Ain't no doubt about it.

You've heard it before, and we'll say it again: throughout the world of rock and roll, there's never been anything quite like this.

In celebration of "Bat Out of Hell"'s first birthday, let's look at the record (PE 34974) to see why 1978 belongs to Meat Loaf, and why Meat Loaf seems to be growing bigger and bigger as the weeks go by:

- Double-platinum-plus album sales.
- Gold single, "Two Out of Three Ain't Bad."
- Over 1.5 million albums sold in the last 90 days.
- Shipping at an average of 25,000 albums per day.
- Additional 1.5 million albums sold internationally.
- Total worldwide sales racing to surpass four million.

...and so on into 1979.

The spectacular journey that took off with "Two Out of Three Ain't Bad" (8-50513) now continues with the new Meat Loaf single, "You Took the Words Right Out of My Mouth." (8-50634) It's already a classic on hundreds of play lists all over the country.

And in response to your continued support, we're shipping it in anticipation of yet another Top-40 smash.

"Bat Out of Hell."
The double-platinum inaugural Meat Loaf album, with songs by Jim Steinman.

EDITORIAL The Loading Zone

The trend of late to ship more and more product may be satisfying some egos, but the practice seems to be putting a strain on the manufacturer-retail partnership. Although the ongoing industry philosophy of insuring sales by shipping large quantities is valid, there is a point at which "loading" becomes a burden for all involved.

Retailers have commented recently they are willing to work with the labels, and even "bend" under pressure on specific projects. But they also said when stacks of over-shipped releases sit in their warehouses, they feel no push to return payment.

Labels, on the other hand, are pushing for heavier quantities to go out for greater industry exposure and a variety of other reasons. Unfortunately, this does not always produce the desired results.

The psychological implications of this situation are not consistently working in the manufacturers' favor. For example as a store manager looks around to see huge numbers of a specific album, he loses sight of the fact that the LP may be selling well. Consequently, in some cases, reports to the trades are missed.

Some albums have enough industry anticipation that they demand large shipments, but fast and furious re-order patterns can generate more excitement in the business than massive initial shipments.

4,000 Converge On Nashville For Annual Country DJ Week

by Bob Campbell

NASHVILLE — This bedrock community of country music is celebrating this week. With DJ Week and the 53rd Grand Ole Opry Birthday Celebration reaching the halfway mark, Nashville is swollen with the influx of music industry figures absorbing the best and brightest country music has to offer.

More than 4,000 country DJs, music executives, artists, songwriters, publishers, producers and journalists from around the world are swarming here and taking in the glitter and fellowship of the countless parties, receptions, meetings, and record company showcases which are running nearly around the clock.

All the hotels and motels are filled to capacity, and constant activity bustles in downtown Municipal Auditorium, The Grand Ole Opry House, The Opryland Hotel, The Hyatt-Regency and The Sheraton Hotel. Chamber of Commerce spokesmen have estimated more than $1 million will be brought into Nashville this week because of country music week.

Record company heads from all major labels have flown in, and most companies have scheduled business conferences sandwiched in between the other activities.

The Country Music Association Awards Show, which normally kicks off DJ Week, was held one week earlier this year because of a conflict with the World Series telecast. The awards show was televised nationally on prime time by CBS-TV, and the CMA voted RCA's Dolly Parton its 1978 "Entertainer of the Year." Johnny Cash hosted the 90-minute special which also named ABC's Don Williams as its "Male Vocalist of the Year" and United Artists' Crystal Gayle as its "Female Vocalist of the Year."

The Nashville Songwriters Association, Int. (NSAI) actually opened country music week this year on Oct. 15 when the association held its 9th annual Awards show and elected Hank Snow, Tom T. Hall, Joe Allison and Don Wayne into the Songwriters Hall of Fame here. Wesley Rose of Acuff-Rose Publishing was awarded the prestigious "President's Award" for outstanding service to Nashville's songwriters.

CBS To Start Printing Bar Code On LPs In 1979

NEW YORK — CBS Records will begin to carry the printed bar coding system on some of its album jackets early in 1979, fulfilling a prediction made by Bruce Lundvall, president of CBS Records Division, at the 1978 NARM Convention.

CBS is currently in the process of developing an effective method of bar coding record albums, and the company has taken the position that bar coding can benefit manufacturers, as well as wholesalers and retailers.

A number of other major manufacturers have also applied for and/or received bar coding numbers. At press time, spokesman for Warner Brothers and Elektra/Asylum could not be reached for comment on the CBS move. Sal Uterano, vice president of national sales for Atlantic Records, said that Atlantic has not had recent discussions regarding implementation of bar coding.

CBS/Jet Injunction Lifted In Suit Against Promo, Levy

by Ken Terry

LOS ANGELES — A temporary injunction obtained by CBS Inc. and Jet Records, which would have blocked Promo Records and its president, Morris Levy, from selling any copies of Electric Light Orchestra's "Out Of The Blue" LP, was lifted Friday (20) in New Jersey State Superior Court.

The court granted the injunction two days earlier in response to a suit filed by CBS and Jet which seeks to prevent Promo and Levy from selling more than 1 million ELO LPs sold to Promo by United Artists Records. The suit will now continue through regular channels.

The suit alleges that Promo, a New Jersey-based cutout distributor, purchased approximately 1.2 million units of ELO's "Out Of The Blue" recording, including 865,519 albums, 32,816 cassettes and 348,641 eight-track tapes, from United Artists Music and Records Group (MRG) after MRG had already contracted to sell its entire inventory of that LP (along with its stock of certain other records) to Jet Records. It is also alleged that MRG and its co-principals, Artie Mogull and Jerry Rubenstein, had segregated these albums from the product that they turned over to Jet when that label switched its distribution from MRG to CBS.

Sold For Less

Furthermore, the suit contends, MRG sold these albums to Promo for much less than the current wholesale price for full-line LPs. Consequently, the suit states, Promo can resell the albums to dealers at a much lower price than Jet/CBS can, and the affected retailers would naturally return whatever they had bought from Jet for full credit.

Finally, according to the suit," a substantial portion" of the records, cassettes and tapes that MRG diverted from Jet and sold to Promo are "warped or otherwise defective." Putting these copies on the market would result in "a loss of goodwill towards Jet as manufacturer and ELO as the performer."

CBS and Jet base their statement about the records' allegedly defective condition upon samplings of other "Out Of The Blue" albums in warehouses around the country. In addition, during the course of a separate suit brought against MRG by Jet last July in Los Angeles Superior Court, a witness for the prosecution testified that he had sampled ELO albums in a St. Louis warehouse and had found 41% of them to be defective. However, this finding was disputed by a witness for the defense, and a temporary restraining order which Jet had sought to prevent MRG from selling any of its "Out Of The Blue" albums was denied. The court suggested that both parties produce more evidence to support their arguments.

At this point in the California suit, both sides agreed to enter into negotiations for an out-of-court settlement. A "moratorium" was declared on sales of the ELO album; no new court papers were to be filed; and further investigation of the product's condition was suspended.

On September 18, discussions between the two sides broke down. The next day, according to the CBS/Jet suit in New Jersey, Promo signed a contract with MRG for the sale of the ELO albums. Citing a portion of that contract, the CBS/Jet suit charges that Levy bought the goods with full knowledge of the allegations that had been made in

Industry Move Toward $8.98 List Price On Domestic LPs Would Boost Sales Of Imports

by Randy Lewis

LOS ANGELES — Now that the move has begun toward more and more $8.98 list albums, sales of import records will grow faster than ever as the price difference between domestic releases and foreign product continues to shrink, says Rick Lawler, general manager of Jem Records, the nation's largest importer.

"The closer the price of an import comes to the price of an American record," Lawler said, "the more incentive there is (for the consumer) to spend the small amount of extra money it takes to buy an import to get a higher quality piece of merchandise."

Since most retailers are selling $8.98 list LPs in the $6-$7 range (Cash Box, Oct. 21), the increase puts those "selected" American releases in head-to-head competition, price-wise, with imported albums, Lawler said.

He said the current boom in the import business began about two years ago, when the American industry started the move from a standard $6.98 list to the $7.98 list.

At that time, he said, sales began to pick up because the price of imports was much closer to that of a $7.98 domestic album. "Things were becoming more competitive for us and if we had been able to hold our prices during the time the industry has gone from $6.98 to $7.98 to $8.98, now we would really be in great shape," Lawler said.

"However that has not been the case," he said. "We have had an increase which was not of our own making. We don't make our prices, they are subject to the prices we are charged by European manufacturers and also by international currency exchange rates. As most people know, that has been very unfavorable to the American dollar in the last six months or so."

Dollar Devaluation

Because the dollar has continued to slide in value in relation to foreign currencies, Lawler said it has cost Jem more to buy records in recent months and they had to increase their prices a few months back.

But since a domestic $8.98 list LP is sold to dealers for $4.50-$5, imports, generally selling for $5-$5.25 on what they classify as an $8.98 album, are back into competition.

Tower Records' Hollywood store carries a large number of import records and store manager Bob Delanoy says a list price increase on American releases will make imports more competitive.

But he also said price is only one of

Farrell Forms Two Publishing Firms

LOS ANGELES — Wes Farrell, a 20-year veteran of the music publishing field, has formed two new, Los Angeles-based music firms, Wescraft Music Company (BMI) and Bullhorn Music Company (ASCAP). The formation of these two publishing companies marks Farrell's re-entrance into music publishing since he sold his music organization in June 1977.

In recent weeks, Farrell stated that he has staffed his new companies with a "complete staff of writers that have the gifted abilities to compose for all phases of the music industry."

To date, Westcraft and Bullhorn have acquired approximately 100 songs for records, motion pictures, television and commercials. Among the represented composers are Leslie Bricusse, Bob Merrill, Bradford Craig and himself.

The companies will be able to supply "artists and producers with a great variety of material," Farrell stated. The firms are also negotiating for various important catalogs, he added.

"We shall build a powerful company," asserted Farrell. "I believe that within this new venture, we will accomplish the building of a new company that will immediately embrace the interests of the entire music industry."

Kirshner And CBS Are Partners In Publishing Firm

NEW YORK — CBS Records group and Kirshner Entertainment Company have jointly formed a partnership, Kirshner/CBS Music Publishing, which encompasses the present Kirshner catalog and its staff on writers as well as all future activities of Don Kirshner Music (BMI) and Kirshner Songs (ASCAP). The enterprise, which is the first music publishing partnership in which CBS has been involved, will be managed by the Kirshner Music operation under the direction of Herb Moelis, executive vice president of Kirshner Entertainment Company, working in conjunction with Rick Smith, vice president and general manager of April Blackwood, the music publishing arm of CBS Records.

Walter Yetnikoff, president of the CBS/Records Group, commented, "This new agreement with Don Kirshner is the most important move we have made in the music publishing field and is a major part of our long-term plans for growth. Don Kirshner's extraordinary record of success in all possibilities that this collaboration will enable us to carry out."

Kirshner's two music publishing operations include over 600 compositions, including Kansas' "Dust In The Wind." Back catalog hits include the Archies' "Sugar, Sugar" and Frankie Avalon's "Venus." Kirshner has also worked with such top

Licensing Process For Plus Profit Items Grows Complex

by Charles Paikert

NEW YORK — An essential aspect of much plus profit merchandise, and the one most closely connected with the record industry, is the reproduction of a recording artist's name and likeness on a product. Before that process can take place, though, an important legal document must be validated: the artist's license agreement.

In the agreement, the artist gives permission to a third party to exploit the artist's name and likeness on tangible goods for profit.

This legal agreement, however, is far from a simple giveaway at a 10-15% royalty rate. In the past five years, in fact, artist's license agreements have become, according to Deil Furano, president of Winterland Productions, "extremely sophisticated and complex. The deals are becoming more and more innovative."

The most important aspect of the agreement is still, of course, the amount of royalties that the artist will receive, and how that price is determined. Percentages range from 10% to 25%, and the percentage is usually derived from the average wholesale price of the item.

Licensing Period

The length of the licensing period is also an essential element of the agreement, as are the specific markets in which the merchandiser may sell the product. Also, the artist's quality control over the manufactured products has become an increasingly crucial area of license agreements. Lee Freidman, president of Boutwell, Inc., a Los Angeles firm that handles merchandising of Kiss products, stresses that every Kiss product "must be approved by myself and Bill Aucoin, Kiss' manager."

Artists are also demanding detailed accountability from merchandisers, according to Elliot Hoffman, a prominent record industry attorney and supervisor of Star/Rights Co., an artist licensing company. "We want access to the manufacturer's books and records," Hoffman says. "In fact, we will not sign an agreement until we have first investigated the particular company. Then we want to make sure the product will be well handled, properly distributed, and completely accounted for."

Guarantees

Another aspect of the artist license agreement that is the subject of increasing controversy is the guarantee demanded by the artist from the manufacturer. Jim Bickhart, A&R supervisor for Warners Special Products, a division of the corporation that handles licensing for various artists, asserts that guarantees "may be the bane of license agreements now. Artists are trying to take advantage of them, but very often the manufacturers are getting hurt."

Winterland's Furano, though feels that the guarantee situation is beginning to level

Sal Uterano

Uterano Named Vice President Of Sales For Atlantic

NEW YORK — Sal Uterano has been named vice president of sales for Atlantic Records.

Uterano, who was previously director of national sales, will continue working with national accounts, and will also assume direct responsibility for the Atlantic regional sales force. In addition, Uterano will integrate a working relationship with all WEA's sales managers as part of Atlantic's participation in WEA field force sales meetings.

Uterano joined Atlantic in 1967 as a field salesman covering eastern and midwestern markets. In 1969, he was named assistant sales manager, and in 1971, he became national sales manager for albums.

Construction Begins On New CBS Plant

NEW YORK — In a ceremony planned by the Carroll County Chamber of Commerce and CBS Records, Samuel Burger, senior vice president of manufacturing operations for CBS, broke ground for the company's new record and tape facility in Carrollton, Georgia. The Carrollton plant, expected to eventually employ some 300 people, is said to be the largest such installation in the world. According to a local spokesperson for the project, more than 500 persons will be employed during the peak construction periods.

In a year when soundtrack albums have established an overwhelming market value in the industry, it appears that MCA Records', "Original Motion Picture Soundtrack, The Wiz," will make a big commercial impact as we head into the Christmas sales period.

Based on the Tony award-winning Broadway musical score by Charlie Smalls, the 26-song double-record set has been embellished by veteran composer/arranger Quincy Jones, who adapted, supervised, produced and collaborated with Warner Brothers recording artists Nickolas Ashford and Valerie Simpson on original material for "The Wiz."

The Universal/Motown film, "The Wiz," is based on the 1900 novel by L. Frank Baum, "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz," but director Sidney Lumet, producer Rob Cohen, scriptwriter Joel Schumacher, and a cast of other industry notables brought together an all-star cast including Diana Ross, Michael Jackson, Nipsey Russell, Ted Ross, Mabel King, Richard Pryor, Lena Horne, to transform one of America's classic fables into an urban fantasy.

The soundtrack, which shipped platinum and was #94 with a bullet on the Cash Box Album chart last week, seems destined to break wide open on the eve of the film's release, while the album's first single, "Ease On Down The Road," featuring Diana Ross and Michael Jackson continues to climb up the singles charts, last week reaching #40.

Angelo

"I enjoy performing more than anything," says recording artist-songwriter Angelo. "I'm waiting for the day when I can play to my audience instead of having to win them over — and by the time I win them over and get warmed up, the show is over."

Judging by Angelo's first two albums on Fantasy, that day is not far off. Angelo is an excellent singer, a fine songwriter and a shrewd judge of songs to cover. His most recent LP, "Midnight Prowler," includes two Billy Joel songs and one each by J.D. Souther and John Fogerty as well as four written by Angelo and his lyricist, Anne Newton.

On his recent mini-tour Angelo opened for the David Bromberg Band. "It was hard to go on stage with no advance billing, with no name on the marquee," Angelo notes.

Even when his name is on the marquee it's a short one. Soon after Angelo moved from the east coast to Los Angeles in the early '70s to crack the music business, he signed with Sergio Mendes as a singer and spent the next few years touring with Mendes and his group. It was Mendes who suggested that Angelo drop his last name.

"Hooking up with Sergio Mendes was a great thing for me at that time," remembers Angelo. "We toured all over the U.S. and Japan. I was pretty green then and it was a great learning experience."

In 1971 Angelo put out a single on Atlantic called "Hey, Look At The Sun." The song was later covered by Mendes and Jose Feliciano.

Angelo's current label, Fantasy, was interested in him soon after he won the best vocalist award at the 1971 Pacific Coast Collegiate Jazz Festival, but Angelo threw in with Mendes instead. In 1975 Fantasy finally did sign him, after a deal with Bell Records that yielded no product. Angelo has now released two LPs for Fantasy, and third is on the drawing board for early next year.

When he first arrived on the west coast, Angelo was more a jazz musician. His early jazz influences show through on his self-titled debut album and in the players he has chosen to support him on his albums, such as Lee Ritenour and Randy Brecker. "In my early career I was a jazz drummer," says Angelo, "it wasn't until I came to California that I got into pop."

Now Angelo's music is closer in style to that of his brother, Bobby Arvon, another pop artist. Another brother, Pat, is part of Angelo's current band.

Pat isn't the only family member who works professionally with Angelo. His mother-in-law, Anne Newton, is his current lyricist.

"I love writing songs, writing good material," says Angelo, "but I hate to formulate lyrics — it drives me crazy. I've worked with a lot of different lyricists, but right now I'd have to say Anne's the best.

"We first wrote together as a fun thing, but I really liked her lyrics and we hit it off just great personally. So now when I want to work on new songs I go to Chicago where she lives and work with her there.

"I've also been writing some with Danny Seraphine, Chicago's drummer," adds Angelo.

Angelo has paid his dues and appears on the verge of a break in his career. An edited version of "I've Loved These Days" is going to be his next single, and many observers believe it could make Angelo Fantasy's biggest pop act since Credence Clearwater Revival.

Peter C. Johnson

It's not often that a newly signed recording artist is trusted by his or her record company to self-produce their debut album. And it's absolutely unheard of for a company to allow a newly signed artist to actually record their debut album, completely alone in a small apartment.

Yet that's exactly what happened when A&M Records signed Peter C. Johnson, a dropout seminarian from Harvard who had settled into the Cambridge folk scene. Johnson, who is now 32, began playing guitar 12 years ago "after I first heard Bob Dylan on the car radio."

After graduating from Trinity College, Johnson attended Harvard Divinity graduate school from 1968 to 1969. At the same time, he says, "I was playing in a bar down the street at Harvard Square." Johnson ended this conflict by choosing a career in music, and formed his first band. The Manic-Depressives.

The band lasted for three years and became staples on the early-seventies Boston club circuit, where they forged friendships with other local musicians, including Bonnie Raitt and Andy Pratt. The Manic-Depressives also went on the road, but, as Johnson relates, "it was a sleazy scene, with sleazy booking agents and lots of stages as big as desks."

Besides, Johnson adds, "we really were manic-depressives, so naturally the band broke up." After the split, Johnson says, he "was sick of imitating other people," and went out and bought himself a four-track recorder. The reason? "It provided an environment which I wanted to see what I could create in."

Johnson is quick to add, however, that "I am not a technician. In fact, Andy Pratt had to show me how to use the machine. What I'm basically doing is exploring with my own two ears, and trying to get my mood across. It's more of a conceptualist notion, rather than a flashy display of electronics."

For the next two and a half years, Johnson perfected both his knowledge of electronic equipment and his songwriting style. He then emerged with a show in Boston clubs which he called "Half Man/Half Tape," in which he accompanied his singing with tapes of himself playing.

"The reaction was one of love or hate," Johnson says, "with a certain amount of bewilderment thrown in. I don't know how many people really understood that what I was doing was presenting myself in multiples."

Fortunately, representatives from A&M Records were among the people who did understand what Johnson was doing, and last year they signed Johnson to a contract. In a most unusual move, A&M agreed to let Johnson record the album in his apartment, and the company also provided $40,000 worth of equipment to aid Johnson's efforts.

Johnson again secluded himself, adding layer upon layer of sound to his album with occasional help from artists like Bonnie Raitt and Nils Lofgren. He emerged with an extremely personal album that combines rock, folk, and even elements of Caribbean rhythm. In addition, there is an oddball remake of Perry Como's "Catch A Falling Star."

While Johnson remains convinced that "performance has taken a backseat to sound," he does plan to assemble a touring band after the completion of his second album. Meanwhile, it's back to his Cambridge home — where the studio is.

Weber Heads Up One-Man Direct-To-Disc Campaign

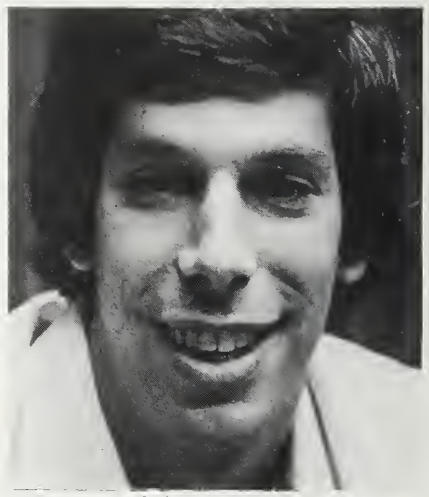
by Peter Hartz

LOS ANGELES — An avid collector with more than 110 direct-to-disc recordings in his library, producer Jeffrey Weber has launched a one-man campaign to heighten the market penetration and general awareness of this no-tape recording process.

"I believe in the capacities of direct-to-disc recording," says Weber. "Quite simply, it gets the listener as close to the music as possible. The price is no longer outrageous in comparison with regular pressings and the quality is much better. I think the future is very bright for direct-to-disc."

Direct-to-disc could also be called "live in the studio" because all musicians are present and everything played is cut directly onto a master lacquer. The process offers no chance for remixing, editing or overdubbing.

During the last four years, Weber has worked on 13 direct-to-discs, serving in various capacities and working for companies such as Discwasher Recordings, Sheffield Lab, JVC and Nautilus Recordings. Most recently, in conjunction with Discwasher, Weber has produced in the last eight months "Intensive Care" by jazz veterans Ray Brown, Paul Smith and Louis Bellson, "Note Smoking" with Bellson and the Big Band Explosion, and "Nostalgia Suite" by Roger Kellaway and the Cello Quintet.



Jeffrey Weber

Weber describes "Intensive Care" as an album for jazz aficiandos "as well as for folks who hate jazz." "Note Smoking" is an adventure in the contemporary big band sound while "Nostalgia Suite," Kellaway's first recording in five years, is "a journey into current jazz melodies while using the theme "of yesterday."

No Fooling

"I exist on the creativity of the musician," says Weber. "My job is to create a musical

Managers Series

Steckler Worked In Textiles Before Becoming Manager

NEW YORK — Richard Steckler spent 22 years of his life as an executive in the textile business. Today, Steckler is teamed with veteran music man Don Arden, president of Jet Records, as the co-principal of a formidable new management firm, British-American Management Company.

Steckler began his career in the music business two years ago, he says, because "I had gone as far as far as I could in the textile business." He had met many people in the entertainment industry on the Los Angeles social circuit, and decided to switch careers when he heard of an opening at BNB, a large Los Angeles management firm.

After a year at BNB, Steckler formed a partnership with Allan Bernard, and early this year, the two men began to manage Epic recording artists Heatwave. The group toured heavily this spring and summer, and Steckler was forced to try out his newly learned managerial skills.

But the learning process didn't take very long, Steckler claimed, because of key similarities in the textile and music businesses. "They're not that different," Steckler stated. "The basic concepts of marketing and managerial expertise are essentially the same. You have to know how to deal with business people, banks, and attorneys on a day-to-day basis.

"Just change the names of the products," Steckler continued, "and the same kind of business situations apply to both fields. Contracts, for example, are so critically important in both areas. Once you're experienced at reading and understanding them, you're way ahead of the game."

While in England this summer, Steckler became re-acquainted with Arden, whom he had originally met in September, 1977. The two men discovered that their management theories meshed incredibly well, and, in September, they announced the formation of British-American Management.

Initially, Steckler said, the company will display a strong multi-media thrust. "Stigwood proved it can be done successfully," Steckler said, "and with a highly visual group like Heatwave, we feel we have a strong basis to move into movie and TV tie-ins."

Also, Steckler emplasized that, while British-American will work closely with Jet Records, the new company has no plans to absorb management responsibilities for all Jet acts. "The most we want is six," Steckler said. "In fact, once you get over three active acts, it's very hard to control the situation. So we feel very strongly about taking a selective approach with our roster." Besides Heatwave, British-American has signed Les McCann, Trickster, and Magnum.

Steckler additionally stressed that British-American will concentrate on "much more of an international outlook than most other management companies." He cited a recent Heatwave tour where the group gave performances in Hong Kong, Manila, and Bangkok, Thailand.

"These countries are into Western music very heavily now," Steckler declared, "and the management of the future is simply going to have to know how to deal most effectively within a global framework. Not only are touring dollars going to be made on an increasing scale, but I believe you'll see the group's records move well also, and a manager is going to have to be prepared to deal with every aspect of that scene."

Asked to sum up his management philosophy, Steckler concluded, "I think it's very simple. We want to expand the artist's market in every way possible. If that means network TV in some cases, or Asian tours, or movie deals, then we have to be able to handle it, so any of our groups can get the kind of exposure that will serve to enhance and preserve their careers. We believe that the record business isn't saturated yet, by any means, and that creative tactics on a manager's part can still help to open up markets for his artist."

Label-Dealer Cooperation Maximizes Hits, Says Orleans

LOS ANGELES — "I don't want to be a part of a record company that isn't selective about every piece of product it puts out."

Arnie Orleans, vice president of sales and merchandising for ABC Records, was talking about the label's commitment to its artists — a commitment he feels should be emotional as well as financial.

"Most musically valid artists that don't happen," Orleans says, "don't happen because they are 'undermerchandised.' "

Arnie Orleans

But this doesn't mean the acts are being shortchanged in terms of how many posters or radio spots they are alloted. Rather, he traces the problem to people at the record company who "don't believe strongly enough in the artist, or if they do, don't give the time and energy required to share that belief with the other people in our industry — namely, radio, wholesalers and retailers.

"When a potential hit record comes out of the recording studio, it's a matter of exposing it to as many people as possible so that the consumer can say, 'Okay, I know about it. I've heard it. Do I want to go out and spend this five, six or seven dollars to buy it?' "

Orleans, who joined ABC eight weeks ago, was formerly vice president of marketing for 20th Century-Fox Records. In his new position, he is responsible for sales, merchandising, marketing, advertising and creative services.

Create A 'Hook'

Orleans stresses the importance of creating initial consumer awareness of a record before moving in with additional merchandising and advertising dollars. The key, he says, especially for a company like ABC that uses both branch and independent distribution, is to come up with a "hook" that will get distributors and retailers behind the record.

"Quite often this is a matter of reaction," he says, "with the street giving you the hook you're looking for to say, 'We've got something going here, now is the time to go out there and buy those radio spots and point-of-purchase materials for in-store display.'

"Until the consumer has an awareness base, there is no point in spending a great deal of money because advertising cannot create sales; it can only enhance sales."

While Orleans concedes that radio is still the primary means of exposure for recorded music, he says in-store activity at the retail level is becoming increasingly more important as an avenue of promotion.

"The retail explosion we've heard so much about of late is for real," he says. "There are more stores, and they are better merchandised, better staffed and better stocked than ever before. And this, along with certain areas of radio being maybe a little more inhibited than we as manufacturers would like them to be, has made retail exposure a significantly more vital force."

All of which, according to Orleans, points up the inherent partnership between manufacturer and retailer. "We have to understand each other's needs, frustrations and problems," he says. "And part of that understanding is that neither side gouges the other.

"We have to understand that the retailer, because of today's pricing structure, is generally working on a small margin of profit. So we have to supply him with as much assistance at no cost as is humanly possible."

Costs Of Doing Business

On the other hand, he says, the retailers "must understand that they have certain costs of doing business" and should not expect the manufacturer to cover these costs. At the same time, retailers have "to be every bit as concerned as we are about breaking new acts," he adds.

In view of the current trend toward multi-platinum shipments of new releases, Orleans was asked how the label determines what the initial pressing for a given album will be. "You attempt to come up with the number or quantity that is the reasonable limit the marketplace can hold, to maximize that release at that time," he says. "Returns are there for the times our educated guesses are wrong."

Finally, Orleans pointed out that "to create artificial billing" by shipping more product than the marketplace will bear is "self-defeating." He explains, "You might be convinced that you have a double platinum album, but if you know the account can reasonably handle only five or ten pieces in his store, then what have you accomplished by making him take more?

"No one gets paid until records get sold, so if they are sitting on the floor in his back room they are creating no revenues for anyone. All you've done is tie up a whole lot of people's cash and, more importantly, you have created a negative tone psychologically."

Big 3 Music Reaches Agreement With Disney

NEW YORK — The print division of United Artists Music, The Big 3 Music Corp., will produce and distribute music publications from the Walt Disney publishing catalog, Wonderland Music Co., Inc. and Walt Disney Music Co., in the United States and Canada.

The long-term agreement, which covers both current and future pop and standard music print, was signed at the Disney Studios by Gary Krisel, vice president and general manager of Walt Disney Music Co.; Vic Guder, director of the Disney music publishing organization; and Harold Seider, president of UA Music.

Negotiations were concluded as the Disney complex prepares to move into a major national merchandising support campaign in celebration of the 50th birthday of Mickey Mouse. The birthday theme and broad merchandising efforts will be fully implemented this fall in all of the Disney enterprise sectors, including television, movies, books, soft goods, hard goods and Disney amusement parks, as well as the record and music publishing areas.

The Disney emphasis on the music-record drive dovetails with recent policy statements from UA Corp. and its parent organization, Transamerica, that UA Music is considered a key growth division in its projections. UA Music's print operation has in recent years enjoyed a particularly substantial expansion, and now produces a substantial share of the industry's music books, sheet music and educational music publications.

Herman Steiger, executive vice president of The Big 3, noted that with the new acquisition of print from the Disney catalogs, The Big 3 now produces and distributes print material for some 40 outside music publishers.

EAST COASTINGS — TRAGEDY AT THE CHELSEA — The Chelsea Hotel is an old building on West 23rd Street in Manhattan. Some people call it seedy. Others find the hotel attractive because of its reputation as an artists' hangout. Among these artists are rock musicians like Sid Vicious, the 21-year-old former bass player for the Sex Pistols, who stayed in a room at the Chelsea with his girlfriend, Nancy Spungen. The couple, according to reports, were not in good shape. Their friends allege that they played with knives, and that they had nasty fights, and that Sid was a seriousiy ill methadone addict. On October 12, New York City police found the body of Nancy Spungen, lifeless underneath the sink of the room she shared with Vicious, whose real name is John Simon Ritchie. She had been fatally stabbed in the abdomen. Sid Vicious was charged with murder. On his way to the police station, he looked pale and frail, but when photographers approached, he snarled and threatened to smash their cameras.

PHILLIPS SIGNS — Songwriter Shawn Phillips recently signed an exclusive songwriter contract with Cafe Americana Music. Phillips' first album for RCA Records, "Transcendence," is scheduled for release soon. Pictured (l-r) at the signing are: Steve Bedell, Casablanca vice president/publishing and Phillips.

THE AFTERMATH — Sid spent the next five days at the drug detoxification unit of Rikers Island near New York. His mother flew in from London, as did Malcolm McLaren, the Sex Pistols former manager. $50,000 bail was posted, and Sid is now out of jail, in McLaren's custody. McLaren says that a Sid Vicious album will be recorded soon to help raise money for Sid's defense fund. A defense fund drive has also been started in England, and there is talk that a film featuring Sid Vicious will soon be released.

MEANWHILE — Vicious' arrest took place the same day that MCA and Infinity Records hosted the new label's coming-out party amidst the marbled splendor of the New York Public Library on 42nd Street and Fifth Ave. That's right, the party was held in the entrance hall of the library, and the regal setting, sumptuous food, and lively crowd contributed to making the party one of the most talked-about of the year. Ron Alexenburg, of course, was the star of the evening and joining him were Infinity artists Orleans, Doble Gray, and Robert Johnson. Also on hand were Meat Loaf, who enveloped Ron with a giant bear hug; Lenny LeBlanc; Nona Hendryx; Garland Jeffries; Terry Cashman; Bill Aucoin; Ron Delesener; Nat Weiss and 99X program director Bobby Rich, who mumbled through his drink, "who are these people, anyway?"

NAMES IN THE NEWS — Jon Landau, also in attendance at the Infinity affair, said that his main concern right now for Bruce Springsteen was to assemble a double live album "as soon as possible" . . . And while we're on the Bruce beat, reports are that the Pointer Sisters will be the next artists to cover Springsteen's "Fire" . . . Ex-Mahavishnu John McLaughlin has two new band members: bassist Fernando Saunders and drummer Tony Smith. Both played with Jan Hammer previously. Look for Earth, Wind and Fire to have their greatest hits package ready soon . . . Rita Coolidge and Scott Muni will host the second annual DIR Rock Radio Awards Show, set to air on November 22. Award winners will be announced at a press party at Elaine's November 2. The Sweethearts of Salt Lake City, Donny and Marie Osmond, will soon be punched out on TV spots — as part of their new Hawaiian Punch endorsements . . . Stephanie Mills spectacular at her Grand Finale gig . . . Arlen Roth, scoring critical points with his debut album on Rounder Records, will tour with Tony Bird and Art Garfunkel until December . . . Move over Harlan Sanders — Raymond Froggatt has a single on Jet Records titled "Southern Fried Frog" . . . Gospel star Walter Hawkins will be the guest of honor at reception hosted by Word Records at the Warwick Hotel October 23 . . . Hot Long Island Band Freelance Vandals signed to UA. Dennis Ganim will produce . . . Beverly Padratzik has left Jet in New York to join Bill Graham FM Productions in San Francisco . . . David Salidor joins the inimitable Howard Bloom . . . Grace Jones has signed with Norby Walters for agency representation.

CELEBRATING GEORGIA'S MUSIC — The First Annual Georgia Music Week, which was designed to spotlight Georgia's expanding involvement in the music and recording industries, was held recently in Atlanta. Pictured (l-r) joining the festivities are: Sam Wilhoit, president of NARAS, Atlanta chapter; Zell Miller, Georgia Lieutenant Governor; and Bill Denny, national president of NARAS.

NEW YORK NOTES — Last week's most sought-after item was a spoof of the New York Times titled Not The New York Times. Hours after the bogus papers hit the newsstands, they were completely snapped up by the public at one dollar a shot! On the music side, there's a clever take-off on the pretentious "this observer" style of John "Rockhill" Rockwell, who ruminates on Patti Smith's Brain Wave Patterns. The mystery publisher behind the collector's item venture is Josh Feigenbaum, a staffer for DIR Broadcasting . . . LC Musical Productions is planning its third Royal New York Doo Wop Show at the Beacon in December. Last time out, the show boasted the talents of the Clovers, the Passions and the Flamingos, among others . . . And also on the doo-wop circuit, British hitmakers The Darts were in town to audition for a bass singer. Over 300 hopefuls flunked the test in England, so the group came to where doo-wop was born to pick their singer.

THE DOORS RETURN — After listening to "An American Prayer," the latest and probably final Doors project, any original Doors fan has to feel a bit shaken. The album combines a remarkably clear track of Jim Morrison reading poetry, while new Doors instrumental material is delicately layered underneath. The music is slightly more jazzy than previously released material, and there's a live version of "Roadhouse Blues" on the album as well. It sounds remarkably like something the Doors would have done if Jim had returned from his fateful visit to Paris in 1970.

POINTS WEST — ELTON JOHN — The buzz around town last week was all about Elton John's extended solo performance at the convention for the record group of MCA, Inc. Originally, Elton planned to play three of four songs, something new and something old, but once he got behind the piano he didn't stop until two hours later. For many in the audience, it was their first time seeing him perform, since he hasn't toured in the past two years. Much like the Elton of old, he charmed the audience with his wit and jokes about the industry. He even altered the ending of "Your Song" to express his gratitude for the support MCA Records has given him over the years. He said he thinks of his new album, "A Single

by Leo Sacks

NEW YORK — Though the theme of this year's NARM regional meetings has been the "recognition" and "development" of middle-management retailers, the effect of wholesale price increases on sales of catalog items and the current pressing crunch were the key topics discussed at last week's session here.

The series of day-long regional meetings, which will have convened in 18 cities across the country when concluded later this month, are designed to bring NARM to the attention of mid-management executives and grass-roots industry workers who have never before participated in the association's activities.

Joe Cohen, executive vice president of the international organization, compared the regionals to a mini-NARM convention on a local level, where hundreds of retail personnel meet with their manufacturer vendors to discuss their specific needs.

"We're trying to prove to the industry that NARM is something more than an annual five-day convention," Cohen explained in an interview with Cash Box following the morning program, which featured a lecture by marketing consultant David Rachman on "Managing a Retail Store." Cohen added, "The thrust of the organization has always been to address itself to issues that confront the industry daily, and I think that these regional meetings are proof of that objective."

Bigger Attendance

With the addition of 130 new member companies in the last year, Cohen said that attendance at the regional meetings will have increased by an estimated 70-80% over last year's turnout of one thousand persons in 12 cities. Six new cities (Boston, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis, and Denver) were added to the regional schedule this year, though conferences for the retailers with the manufacturers were not arranged in those cities, because it was the first time these markets had experienced regional meetings.

Cohen said that manufacturers may attend conferences in those six cities next May and June (when the regionals resume again), depending upon the size of the turnout in each city this year. He emphasized that he was particularly pleased by the crowds in Boston and Cincinnati.

He also speculated that the number of conference sites might be increased next year, but reserved comment on the exact number. It is expected, though, that the St. Louis and Kansas City meetings will be consolidated in 1979.

Pressing Problem

Representatives of the industry's major manufacturers said they were very pleased with the results of their meetings with the retailers. Sales managers and regional marketing reps agreed that the involvement of middle-level management personnel significantly enhanced the sessions. For instance, they felt that the meetings opened up lines of communication with assistant store managers that might not ordinarily exist.

After one-to-one meetings with retailers at the New York conference, a number of manufacturers noted that the prime concern among the dealers was the pressing problem and how the expected crunch would affect the availability of hit product in the coming weeks.

Ed Jarman, eastern region director for Polygram Distribution, said that he told his accounts that they would have to make certain adjustments on their end. "They were advised that, when they have the opportunity to order, they should put in for a 21-day supply as opposed to a 10-day period, for example. That way, if they're out of certain stock and it's taking us seven days to get to them instead of three, they will be prepared to meet their particular needs."

Jarman stated that he was happy to see the Sam Goody, Korvettes, and Harmony Hut chains bring their individual store managers to the meetings because "it seems that the record industry has no retail managerial training ground for these people. In promotion, we have radio. In management, we reach out into our sales and field forces. But in retail, it's not enough for store personnel to simply like music. It would be good if they had some business or marketing background, let's say."

Craig Smith, northeast sales manager for Warner Bros. Records, noted that "when you talk with a principal of a store or

Tulsa Int'l Festival To Be Taped For TV

LOS ANGELES — The second annual Tulsa '78 International Music Festival, which will be held Nov.3-5 and hosted by Jim Halsey, will be taped for television by Osmond Television. The festival will attract performers, syndicated and major television and radio network producers, talent buyers, theatre, club and fair promoters and members of domestic and foreign press.

A V.I.P. banquet will kickoff the festival on Friday evening, Nov.3, at the Williams Plaza Hotel in downtown Tulsa. Highlighting the event will be a live laser sky show produced by The Image People in association with AV-III. Also slated for the weekend event will be Country Music Magazine's presentation of its second annual Bullet Awards at the Mayo Hotel.

Steely Dan Album Set

LOS ANGELES — "Steely Dan's Greatest Hits" will be released by ABC Records in late October. The two-record set features 18 songs, one of which, "Here At The Western World," is a previously unreleased track.

Man," as similar to his "Honky Chateau" LP of 1972, in that "it was just a fun album to make." He said he is still collaborating with Bernie Taupin and songs he has written with Bernie will appear on future albums, even though all those on the new LP were written with Gary Osborne. He added that he has abandoned the flashy spectacles of the past in favor of contacts out of practicality, not the desire to change his image. He reiterated that he has no desire to tour again, although he did not rule out the possibility of isolated shows at some point in the future. If that should happen, he said he would probably play solo, because that is the most exciting manner of performing he knows. He added that three current artists he enjoys are Cars, David Sanclous and Walter Egan.

DOIN' THE L.A. SHUFFLE — On the business side, the attention was directed to the shifts in positions going on at several labels last week. Ray Anderson, RCA Records division vice president of sales left the company and has reportedly joined ABC, replacing Gary Davis, ABC's former vice president of promotion and artist development. Also at RCA, the position of western regional promotion manager has been dissolved, leaving the status of both Allan Mels and Loule Newman in question, although both apparently will remain with the company in new positions. RCA's official comment is that it has eliminated Anderson's old position. The reporting structure within the company also is said to have changed, calling for all promotion to report directly to label president Robert Summer, with the exception of A/C and trade liaison personnel, who reportedly will be responsible to Joe Galante in Nashville. Across town at CBS Records, Jim Jeffries has left his position as director of national promotion at E/P/A and may be heading towards Warner Bros. There had been talk that Michael Abramson would be shifting from RCA to Grunt Records, but confusion arose because he reportedly will now be working strictly with Jefferson Starship projects, but remaining with RCA . . . And the Gaillanis are rumored to be leaving ABC Records.

STREET KIDS — Chicago joined in the Los Angeles Street Scene celebration last week because the group members are supporters of the city and personal friends of L.A. Mayor Tom Bradley, who asked them to perform. The event was staged to promote the city and raise money for the arts (much of which was cut with the passage of Proposition 13).

L.A. DISCO — Friday the 13th was the kick-off night for ACI/Dave Kesey's production of "L.A. Disco" an extravaganza held at the Hollywood Palladium. It runs for six consecutive weeks. Pictured at the fete are Salsoul recording artist Charo and party-goers.*

Chicago also played to what grew into a crowd of 150,000 as a way of rewarding fans who might have been unable to see the group's shows the past summer at the Greek Theatre, since they knew it would be some time before they return to Los Angeles for concerts. The group will make a rare TV appearance on Dick Clark's show Oct. 25. . . . Another group out on the streets is Mercury's City Boy. From the English streets of Birmingham themselves, the band's members had long expressed the interest to find out more about the Mexican-American culture in Los Angeles, so Gwen Davis, deputy mayor of the city, is honoring the group with a proclamation letter and lunch Nov. 6. City Boy, in turn, will present Davis with a key to the city of Birmingham. Several representatives of the Mexican-American community will attend . . . Ex-Los Angeles residents Donald Fagen and Walter Becker, now part of the "I Love New York" faction, paid numerous visits to the Bottom Line and caught Raul de Souza, Bobby Lyle and Gary Bartz recently. The Steely Dan nuclei are loosely related in that Warren Wallace, former Steely Dan road manager, is now working with de Souza and invited Becker and Fagen to see the Capitol Records trio.

McCARTNEY AND FRIENDS UPDATE The Paul McCartney recording session at London's Abbey Road recording studio mentioned in East Coastings last week apparently had an even greater all-star line-up than originally thought. Though Elton John and Jeff Beck were said to have sent their regrets and declined, the entire roster reportedly included (ready?): Eric Clapton, Peter Townshend, Jimmy Page, David Gilmour and Hank B. Marvin (of the Shadows) on guitar; John Paul Jones, Gary Brooker and Tony Ashton on keyboards; Ronnie Lane, Bruce Thomas (of Elvis Costello's Attractions) and McCartney on bass; and former Small Faces member Kenny Jones, John Bonham and Steve Holley (the latest Wings addition) on drums. No one knows whether the effort will appear as a single, on the next McCartney album or at all, for that matter. But word is the session was captured on film, so it's possible Paul had more in mind than just an impromptu gathering by inviting everyone. Also, the "Wings Over America" movie soundtrack LP is finished and should be ready for release by the first part of next year . . . Barry Manilow is duplicating his U.S. success in England during his first major European tour. His two performances at the London Palladium quickly turned into a six-night stand when the first two shows sold out instantly, a feat which repeated itself when a second group of four shows were announced. Manilow is also shooting a BBC TV special which will air around Christmas . . . Rumor has it Phonogram, Inc./Mercury president Irwin Steinberg is interested in becoming more involved with Polygram U.S. and he may be looking for a new label topper to take over duties at Mercury.

DOUBLE DATE FOR 'A SINGLE MAN' — Elton John traveled to New York and Los Angeles recently for "Meet The Press" luncheons to promote his new album "A Single Man." Elton met with representatives from the print media and radio and did a three-hour live interview with Scott Muni of WNEW-FM in New York. Pictured (l-r) are: John and Mike Maitland, president of MCA Records; George Albert, president and publisher of Cash Box; Bob Siner, executive vice president of MCA Records and John and (flanked by employees of Le Dome Restaurant in Los Angeles) Lou Cook, vice president/administration of MCA; Maitland; John and John Reid, Elton's manager.*

REVIEWS ALBUM REVIEWS

A WILD AND CRAZY GUY — Steve Martin — Warner Bros. HS 3238 — Producer: Wiliam E. McEuen — List: 8.98

Martin's second LP follows "Let's Get Small," which turned into the comedy hit of 1977 and the biggest comedy album in years. Here, Steve branches out, looking beyond humor to a number of current ethical and social concerns. He examines the question that has plagued philosophers for eons, "Is it okay to yell 'Movie!' in a crowded firehouse?" and boldly puts his fame on the line by publicly speaking out against cat juggling in Mexico. It should bring him an even wider audience, or as Steve would put it, "Mucho dinero."

CHAKA — Chaka Khan — Warner Bros. BSK 3245 — Producer: Arif Mardin — List: 7.98

Concluding five successful years as the vocalist of Rufus, Chaka Khan has issued her first solo album on Warner Bros. Under the guidance of producer Arif Mardin, Khan has fully blossomed into a soulful vocal stylist. "Chaka" contains 10 numbers, all of which demonstrate that Khan is deserving of being listed among the premier singers in the R&B/pop field. The single, "I'm Every Woman," is already receiving solid airplay, and other tracks such as "Sleep On It" and "Life Is A Dance" also stand out.

WHAT YOU WAITIN' FOR — Stargard — MCA-3064 — Producer: Mark Davis — List: 7.98

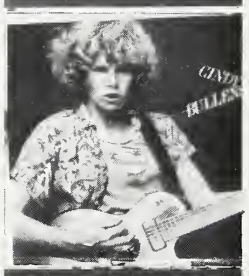
On the heels of a successful debut album, "Which Way Is Up," this female vocal outfit has released its second album, "What You Waitin' For," which also features the group's recent hit single by the same name. This LP effectively showcases the sensuous, smooth singing prowess of Stargard's three members, as witnessed by such cuts as "Disco People," "Starbob" and "Chameleon Lady." Including engaging arrangements and production, this LP is for pop, disco and R&B formats.

BLUE VALENTINE — Tom Waits — Asylum 6E-162 — Producer: Bones Howe — List: 7.98

On his sixth album, Tom Waits continues to depict the seamy under currents and the harsh lifestyle of L.A.'s unglamorous, darker side. As usual, Waits sings with a hoarse, extremely raspy growl which is uncommercial but very effective in conveying his original, highly distinctive persona. "Blue Valentine" is boosted by fairly elaborate arrangements, often utilizing electric piano and guitar textures to good effect. Another noteworthy outing, this is a critically satisfying LP which is sure to please Waits' devoted fans.

DESIRE WIRE — Cindy Bullens — United Artists LA933-H — Producers: Tony Bongiovi and Lance Quinn — List: 7.98

Cindy Bullens has emerged as heir to quite a bit of rock 'n' roll influence. "Desire Wire" is dedicated to Bob Crewe, Bobby Neuwirth and Elton John; three divergent talents which this full-tilt 16-year-old rocker has fully assimilated. The result is a debut album bursting with pop-rock vitality and studio savvy which showcases Bullens singing tight, thoughtful, self-penned material set against an inspiring, meaty production.



PATRICE — Patrice Rushen — Elektra 6E-160 — Producers: Charles Mims, Jr., Reggie Andrews and Patrice Rushen — List: 7.98

Patrice Rushen's first LP for Elektra is an attractive, versatile album which showcases her fluid, soprano vocals, solid compositions plus sparkling arrangements. "Patrice" includes several uptempo numbers which are suitable for the dancefloor, plus a few delicate, moving ballads. An array of top session cats contribute to the album, which features such tracks as "When I Found You" and "Hang It Up."

CHANSON — Arlola SW 50039 — Producers: David Williams and James Jamerson Jr. — List: 7.98

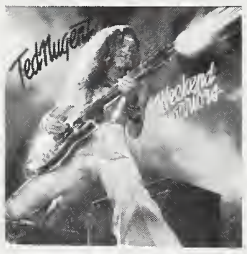
Currently riding high on the black contemporary album chart and featuring the bulleting single, "Don't Hold Back," the debut album by Chanson is a polished, highly danceable workout which is the first major disco/R&B success for Ariola. Spearheaded by the lead vocals and guitar playing of James Jamerson Jr. and David Williams, this album also spotlights crisp percussion work and first-rate horn and string arrangements.

FOR THE SAKE OF LOVE — Isaac Hayes — Polydor PD-1-6164 — Producer: Isaac Hayes — List: 7.98

On his second Polydor effort, Isaac Hayes has concocted a strong album which is deserving of disco, black contemporary and pop chart activity. "For The Sake Of Love" contains cover versions of "Just The Way You Are" and "Don't Let Me Be Lonely Tonight," plus four Hayes compositions, including a reworked disco arrangement of "Shaft." Effective use of synthesizers and female vocals, plus sizzling disco rhythms highlight this LP.

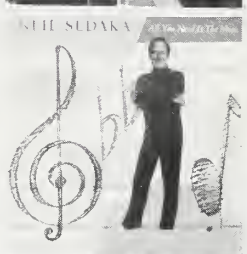
LIVE AT LAST — Steeleye Span — Chrysalis CHR-1199 — Producers: Steeleye Span and Dick Glasser — List: 7.98

This is Steeleye Span's 11th and final album. "Live At Last," should emerge as a glorious testament to a band and a musical concept which more than shattered the barrier between the music of British antiquity and the Telecaster guitar. The cuts on the album all offer an excellent overview of this musical spectre called "British Folk-Rock," with the exhilarating exception of an anomalous studio rendition of the classic "Rag Doll."



WEEKEND WARRIORS — Ted Nugent — Epic FE 35551 — Producers: Lew Futterman, Cliff Davies and Tom Werman — List: 8.98

The Motor City Madman unleashes another set of slam-bam, hard-driving rock with "Weekend Warriors," his first studio album since his "Cat Scratch Fever" effort. From the opening cut, "Need You Bad," on through to LP's finale, "Name Your Poison," Nugent and his band pound out layer upon layer of slashing guitar riffs, rumbling rhythms and shouting, screeching vocals. Boosted by a striking cover illustration of Nugent shooting off fiery licks with his guitar-turned-shotgun, this LP is for AOR and pop formats.



ALL YOU NEED IS THE MUSIC — Neil Sedaka — Elektra 6E-161 — Producers: Nell Sedaka and Artie Butler — List: 7.98

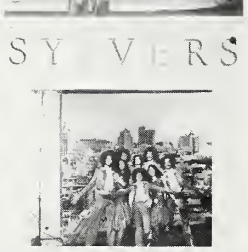
This album should mark Neil Sedaka's return to steady Top 40 success. Leading off with the title track single, "All You Need Is The Music" is a lively, colorful pop-rock work which occasionally displays touches of disco. Containing 10 songs, all of which are composed by Sedaka along with his collaborators Howard Greenfield and Phil Cody, the LP abounds with catchy upbeat numbers plus a couple of tender ballads for a good change of pace.

MAIN EVENT LIVE — Herb Alpert & Hugh Masekela — A&M SP 4727 — Producers: Herb Alpert, Hugh Masekela and Mosa Jonas Gwangwa — List: 7.98

These two veteran horn men joined forces for an excursion into African-flavored jazz-rock last year, and now the duo has released its second project, a live album recorded at the Roxy. Besides the invigorating trumpet and fluegelhorn exchanges that highlight the LP, "Main Event Live" is also boosted by Mose Jonas Gwangwa's exquisite trombone solos, the bristling persussion of Manolo Badrena and Buddy Williams, plus the enthusiastic feedback from the audience.

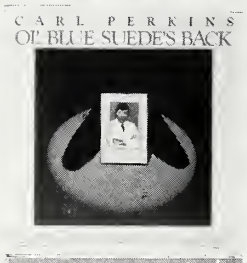
LOVE IS IN THE AIR — John Paul Young — Scotti Brothers SB 7101 — Producers: Vanda & Young — List: 7.98

Currently enjoying strong chart activity with his single, "Love Is In The Air," John Paul Young has released this promising debut album by the same name on the new Scotti Brothers label. Young posseses a slightly raspy, capable voice which easily handles this collection of upbeat, disco/pop numbers and tender ballads. Backed by a five-piece outfit, Young is deserving of steady pop and disco success with such tracks as "Lost In Your Love" and "Fool In Love."



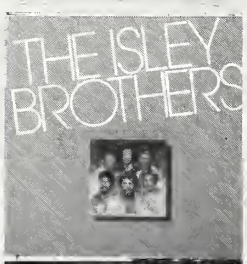
BEST OF THE SYLVERS — Capitol ST-11868 — Producers: Freddie Perren and the Sylvers — List: 7.98

This greatest hits collection spotlights the group's early hits, including such familiar songs as "Boogie Fever" and "Hot Line." "Best Of The Sylvers" features the outfit's tight-knit, energetic lead vocals and harmonies, along with crisp, danceable rhythms, polished arrangements and expert production values. The LP also contains such tracks as "High School Dance," "Free Style" and "Another Day To Love."



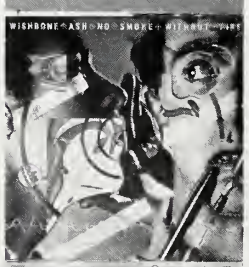
OL' BLUE SUEDE'S BACK — Carl Perkins — Jet KZ 35604 — Producer: Felton Jarvis — List: 7.98

Over 20 years ago, Carl Perkins was one of Sun Records' leading artists and the composer of the legendary rock 'n' roll tune, "Blue Suede Shoes." Now in 1978, Perkins remains in peak form, performing this collection of '50s classics with the spirit and conviction of a true forefather of rock, which is exactly what he is. Produced by Felton Jarvis of Elvis fame, this LP contains such standards as "Maybelline," "That's Alright Mama" and of course, "Blue Suede Shoes." A real treat for rock fans of all ages.



TIMELESS — The Isley Brothers — T-Neck KZ2 35650 — Producers: Ronald Isley, Kelly Isley and Rudolph Isley — List: 11.98

Currently celebrating its 20th anniversary in the music business, this two-record set contains much of the Isley Brothers middle period material, including such hits as "It's Your Thing" and "Work To Do," plus numerous cover versions of late '60s and early '70s classics. "Lay, Lady, Lay," "Spill The Wine," and "Fire And Rain," among others, are given pulsing, crunching R&B treatments in the typical Isley's tradition on this noteworthy collection.



NO SMOKE WITHOUT FIRE — Wishbone Ash — MCA-3060 — Producer: Derek Lawrence — List: 7.98

Out of the progressive rock circus of the early '70s came Wishbone Ash. As the Yardbirds and the Who invented "feedback," so did Wishbone Ash with their swooping soaring dual lead guitar work. "No Smoke Without Fire" has Wishbone Ash making a strong, forceful bid for the contemporary AOR market which did, at one time, embrace their brilliant sound with open arms. Top cuts are "You See Red," "Stand And Deliver," and the "Phoenix"-like "The Way Of The World."

ROGUE WAVES — Terry Reid — Capitol SW-11857 — Producers: Chris Kimsey and Terry Reid — List: 7.98

Singer-songsmith Terry Reid charts his way back to rock and roll with this Capitol debut. Recorded at the Beach Boys' Brothers' Studio, this mix of new and old showcases Reid's throaty, powerful voice and better-than-ever writing. When he pulls up the covers — two Spectors, an Everly Bros. hit, and "Walk Away Rene" — AOR fans throughout the leagues know they have a true star to set their compass and turntable needles to.

FEATURE PICKS

BOB SEGER & THE SILVER BULLET BAND (Capitol P-4653)
We've Got Tonite (3:36) (Gear Publishing — ASCAP) (B. Seger)

This sensitive ballad is the third single from the highly successful "Stranger In Town" album. Piano, stark opening tambourine beat, strings and strong upward swell make this a time add for Top 40 playlists. Female backing singers contribute brightness. Seger is a great rock 'n' roll singer.

IAN MATTHEWS (Mushroom M 7039)
Shake It (3:10) (Steamed Clam Music — BMI) (T. Boylan)

Ian Matthews is a British songer/songwriter who has a sense of style. This first single from his "Stealing Home" album has a gentle grace and pleasant melody. Sax riffs, a stepping beat and swirling guitar work make this an appealing track for Top 40 playlists. Matthews' singing has a winning innocence.

CHRIS REA (United Artists UAX-1252)
Whatever Happened To Benny Santini (3:50) (Magnet Music/Interworld Music — ASCAP) (C. Rea)

Rea is an important new artist. His first single "Fool . . . " was a Top 10 record and this follow-up from his debut album deserves similar attention. Acoustic guitars are bolstered by slide guitar (ala Joe Walsh). Keyboards provide brightness. Rea's voice is rough and interesting. Sax fills are fine. Well-suited to the top of the pop pile.

ELECTRIC LIGHT ORCHESTRA (Jet/CBS ZS8 5052)
It's Over (3:38) (Unart Music/Jet Music — BMI) (J. Lynne)

"Out Of The Blue" has produced two big hits and supported a massive ELO tour this year. This fourth single opens with simple chording which opens to a strumming beat. Strings add panorama. The vocals are characteristically crystalline and soaring. Already a familiar tune, this is suited to Top 40 action.

STEVE GIBBONS BAND (Polydor PD 14516)
Chellta (3:15) (Eel Pie Pub. — BMI) (T. Visconti)

Another entry in The Year of the Sax, Gibbons' second single from "Down In The Bunker" champions a fine line between Springsteenian production and Dylanesque vocals. Final result transcends such comparisons and qualifies for good spins on AOR and pop formats.

LEE OSKAR (Elektra E-45538-A)
Before The Rain (4:01) (Far Out/Ikke-Bad — ASCAP) (Greg Errico)

Already a fave album on R&B, this mellow title track from harmonica man Lee Oskar has a fine string and rhythm arrangement with a West Indian flavoring. Great for a lead-in to features, this track would also be good for light AOR and pop lists.

GENTLE GIANT (Capitol P-4652)
Words From The Wise (2:58) (Alucard Publ./Friday Music/Red Admiral Music/ — PRS/BMI) (R. Shulman/D. Shulman/K. Minnear)

Layered harmonies and firm beat characterizes this single from the "Giant For A Day" album. Guitars and throbbing bass keyboards add flavor and texture to this vocally dominated number. Suited to pop lists.

COLIN BLUNSTONE (Rocket/RCA JH-11412)
Photograph (3:25) (Almo Music — ASCAP) (C. Blunstone/A. Phillips)

Blunstone is best remembered for his work with the Zombies. This first single from his "Never Even Thought" album is a ballad about needing a sign from a lover. Strings, jaunty beat, sparkling piano and guitar work make this worth a pop spin. Nice chorus.

SINGLES TO WATCH

AQUARIAN DREAM (Elektra 45534)
Play It For Me (One More Time) (4:01) (Aquarian Dream/J. Burvick)

Taken from the "Fantasy" album, this track has funky rhythmic undercurrents with excellent dance-oriented vocals and horns on top. The repeated hook has several strong non-verbal hooks ("wow wow wow"). This track has the potential to attract disco, R&B and pop interest.

RAY BARRETTO (Atlantic 3524)
What Part Of Heaven Do You Come From? (3:45) (Hot Stuff Music — BMI (R. Barretto/R. Silva)

Is Ray Barretto the real Mr. Soul? His smooth as satin vocals on this heavily featured cut from "Can You Feel It" qualifies him for the contest. Watch for R&B bullets for this fetchingly orchestrated and highly listenable love song.

LOUISIANA'S LE ROUX (Capitol P-4651)
Take A Ride On A Riverboat (3:19) (Screen Gems/EMI Music — BMI) (J. Pollard)

Le Roux is noted for the use of fine soaring harmonies and strong melodies with a boogie influenced arrangements and this single is a good example. The lyric is about being stung by a Cajun woman. Guitars, moderate beat and harmonies dominate.

GLADYS KNIGHT (Buddah/Arista BDA 601)
I'm Coming Home Again (4:10) (EMP/Times Square Music — BMI) (B. Roberts/C.B. Sager)

Ms. Knight has been engaged in a legal battle with her label but the music goes on. This single is the first from her upcoming solo album titled "Miss Gladys Knight." Electric piano, strings and upward movement nicely build this sensitive ballad about coming home to yourself. Suited R&B and pop play.

PHIL UPCHURCH (Marlin/T.K. 3325)
Strawberry Letter 23 (3:25) (Kidado/Off The Wall — BMI) (J. Tropea)

Replete with a guitar lead which would make his former employer George Benson very proud, Phil Upchurch's remodel of the'77 Bros. Johnson hit features a piano/guitar break guaranteed to spread an epidemic of dancing feet. R&B formats.

PETER TOSH (Rolling Stones Records RS 19308)
(You Got To Walk And) Don't Look Back (3:43) (Jobete Music — ASCAP) (W. Robinson/R. White)

"Bush Doctor" is the name of Peter Tosh's new album and this first is a suitable potion if you got the reggae notion. Mick Jagger takes a few cracks at lead vocals and offers Tosh able support. Horns add brightness to the groove. Worth a pop spin.

MELISSA MANCHESTER (Arista 0373)
Don't Cry Out Loud (3:36) (Irving Music/Woolnough Music/Jemava Music/Unichappel Music/Begonia Melodies — BMI) (C. B. Sager/P. Allen)

Simple piano chording opens this story song about feelings utilizing the big top circus as a dominant metaphor. Supporting strings, steady easy drum beat and bittersweet lyric make this a good AC/MOR and pop add. Manchester sings in a full-throated powerful way.

ENGLAND DAN & JOHN FORD COLEY (Big Tree/Atlantic BT 16130)
Westward Wind (3:17) (Cold Zinc Music/Dawnbreaker Music — BMI) (D. Seals/J.F. Coley)

Soaring guitar licks, moderate acoustic guitar strumming and pleasant breezy vocals make this a good pop add. Taken from the "Nights Are Forever" album, this track has an easy and appealing feel.

THE BOYZZ (Cleve. Intl./Epic 8-50610)
Wake It Up, Shake It Up (3:15) (Dr. Dirt's Clinic/Burning River) (Ron and Howard Albert)

Why obfuscate? This first single from "Too Wild To Tame" rocks so hard, it will blow your speakers out of the dashboard. Heavy guitar and vocal chorus render this mucho-metallic rocker a solid pick for ballsy pop and AOR formats.

DARCUS (RCA JH-11392)
Who's Gonna Love You (3:37) (Song Tailors Music — BMI/I've Got The Music — ASCAP) (C. Ivey/T. Brasfield)

Darcus is a promising singer. This single opens with a gentle shimmering feel which moves up to easy funk. Muscular bass work and upfront drums and electric piano complement the earthy vocals. Flute duet and strings add texture. Darcus gets very funky at the fade.

SLAVE (Atlantic 44242)
Just Freak (3:45) (SpurTree Music/Cotillion Music — BMI) (D. Webster/S. Washington/M. Adams/M. Hicks)

"The Concept" is the name of Slave's album and the concept behind this track is good fast and funky rhythm work and a freaky good horn time. The similarity lyrically between this song and Chic's budding "Le Freak" may help this track. Suited to disco, R&B and pop play.

LYNDA CARTER (Epic 8-50624)
All Night Song (3:25) (Stone Diamond Music — BMI) (B. Siller)

Carter (aka Wonder Woman) has an album entitled "Portrait." This second single has a fine arrangement to back Carter's tender vocals. Strings, backing singers and guitar work make this a good add for AC and pop formats.

SPECIAL DELIVERY (TK 6311)
This Kind Of Love (3:30) (Sherlyn Pub./Tippy Music — BMI) (B. Beard/C. Fortune/N. Mann)

A funky, jaunty rhythm underlies the strings and upper register vocals on this single from the "Special Delivery" album. The singing is expressive and warm. Electric piano adds coloration. Suited to R&B and pop lists.

JESSE WINCHESTER (Bearsville 0332)
Sassy (3:15) (Fourth Floor Music/Hot Kitchen Music — ASCAP) (J. Winchester)

"A Touch On The Rainy Side" is the name of Winchester's new album and this first single has a gentle but spunky rhythm bolstered by ticking, clipping guitar work and percussion embellishments. Horns add a funky bluesy feel. Suited to a pop shot.

KENNY O'DELL (Capricorn CPS-0309)
As Long As I Can Wake Up In Your Arms (2:30) (Hungry Mountain Music/House Of Gold Music — BMI) (K. O'Dell/L. Henley)

This second single from the "Let's Shake Hands . . . " album has a gentle country feel which is well-suited to MOR/AC formats. O'Dell has had good country action, this track may expand his audience.

Disco Formats Take Hold In Top Markets Coast-To-Coast

by Joey Berlin

LOS ANGELES — After years of being labeled a fad, disco music has proven to be a viable and accepted musical style that can be programmed by itself or mixed into pop playlists. The best evidence of this is the rapidly growing number of radio stations switching to disco formats. A survey of major markets reveals that almost every one now has at least one programming primarily disco music, described by one programmer as "an energetic, moving, happy sound that you can dance to."

Many other stations are doing some disco programming, especially on weekend evenings. And as disco has gained greater acceptance on the radio, consultants, syndicators and automated programmers are hopping on the bandwagon and bringing their services to the burgeoning field.

Seeing the "Saturday Night Fever" craze and numbers of people going to discos, stations across the country perceived a demand in their markets for disco music and where no one was programming disco, stations jumped in to fill the void.

"Three years ago our station saw that disco was happening in San Francisco," says KSFX program director Gloria Johnson. "People were asking for dance music and would go out to discos to get it. Sensing this audience receptivity, we switched to a disco format.

"The audience response has been phenomenal," adds Johnson. "We're now in the top 10 in our market. A lot of people use our station as the entertainment at their parties. And we've been surprised to see that our demographics now skew higher than they did when we were 'hit-oriented'."

Ratings Tripled

Jim O'Brien, program director at KDKO/Denver, says his station has tripled its ratings since switching to a disco format last March.

"Everybody was getting involved in the 'Saturday Night Fever' thing," remembers O'Brien. "The world, especially fashions, seemed to be getting into a new 'in' look, the

Tax Reform Bill May Help Reduce Industry Taxes

NEW YORK — A provision of the 1978 Tax Reform Bill, passed by congress on October 16, may save the record industry millions of dollars annually.

In basic terms, the provision would allow accrual-basis taxpayers to subtract the dollar value of returns received in the first four-and-a-half months of the year from their gross income in the preceding year for tax purposes. Among those who could benefit from this system of accounting are record manufacturers, distributors and rack jobbers.

Both the National Association of Recording Merchandisers (NARM) and the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA) have been lobbying through their respective Washington law firms for this legislation since 1975. The paperback book and magazine industries have been independently lobbying for the same legislation.

President Carter is expected to sign the Tax Reform Bill, which has the support of the U.S. Treasury Department.

Eight-Page Booklet To Accompany Morrison LP

LOS ANGELES — Elektra/Asylum Records has prepared a special eight-page, four-color booklet to accompany the poetry album, "An American Prayer," by Jim Morrison, which is scheduled for release on Nov. 14. In addition to featuring the album's poems and lyrics, the booklet will contain several drawings by the ex-leader of the Doors, plus rare photos of Morrison. The booklet was designed by artist John Van Hamersfeld.

According to Bill Siddons of Siddons Associates, a spokesman for the project, the booklet was created because the largely spoken-word nature of the album necessitates easy reference to Morrison's poetry.

Pfeiffer has been a consultant to several major corporations, including RCA, since leaving International Business Machines Corporation in 1976 after 20 years there. 'Sporting News' Ad Brings Bob Seger To New Audience

by Joey Berlin

LOS ANGELES — In a time when "superstar" albums are selling millions of copies and going a long way toward covering the expenses of trying to break less established acts, Capitol Records has uncovered a new vehicle for advertising one of its strongest albums, Bob Seger's "Stranger In Town." The label took out a full-page ad in The Sporting News, a weekly sports tabloid, billing Seger as "a superstar in any stadium." Capitol is believed to be the first record company to advertise in the national sports publication.

The "Sporting News" ad is only one part of a large campaign that has been underway since the release of "Stranger In Town" in May. Other parts of the campaign have included extensive television, consumer magazine and trade press advertising, posters, standups and billboards. Thus far the album has sold approximately three million copies and a third single, "We've Got Tonite," has just been released.

Why 'Sporting News'

"Our advertising philosopy is quite open," says Dan Davis, Capitol's creative services and publicity vice president. "We place ads where we think they'll be most effective. At this time of year, in the World Series issue with the football season in full swing, and with an artist like Bob Seger, we think Sporting News makes good sense.

"Seger is a major superstar. His demographics are male-oriented and he tends to attract older as well as younger audiences. So with baseball and football fans tuned into the Sporting News the time was right to advertise Seger there."

Randall Davis, director of merchandising and advertising for Capitol, points out that the Sporting News ad was part of the label's plan to keep "Stranger In Town," currently #13 on the Cash Box Top 200 Albums chart, alive through the holiday season.

"After the initial rock press ads we asked ourselves what areas were left to hit," indicated Davis. "We went after the college crowd through Ampersand, and tried for middle America through People. Then we decided to try and capitalize on the World Series and Seger's demographics by trying a new market, the sports fan."

Davis added that the Capitol series of television ads that blanketed the country through regional buys was one of the biggest TV campaigns the label has undertaken. He also reported that the latest Seger trade ad is being made into a promotional poster.

MCA Slates Picture Discs Of Who, Elton

LOS ANGELES — MCA Records is planning to issue limited edition picture discs for consumer sales in support of the current albums by the Who and Elton John. The label will release 50,000 copies of the Who's "Who Are You" picture disc at a list price of $15.98 in early December, with the issuing of Elton John's "A Single Man" picture disc to follow early next year. Also in the works are possible picture discs of Lynyrd Skynyrd and Olivia Newton-John albums.

MCA recently ordered approximately 1500 picture discs of "A Single Man" for promotional purposes, but the label's forthcoming Who and John picture marks the first consumer-geared releases for the company.

Record Bar To Sell Pop Top Magazine

NEW YORK — Pop Top Magazine, "The Record Buyer's Guide," has added the 92-store Record Bar chain to its distribution list, which includes chains like Karma, Peaches, Record Town, Strawberries, Tower, and Disc.

New Promo Firm Opens

LOS ANGELES — Multi-Media Marketing, a new company specializing in promotional merchandising programs for the record industry, has opened offices at 9000 Sunset Blvd., suite 617, here, under the direction of Tom Collinger, president.

Mercury Launches Rush Campaign

LOS ANGELES — Phonogram/Mercury Records is launching an extensive marketing campaign in support of its release of "Hemispheres," the new album by hard-rock group Rush. Merchandising aids, an advertising program, a one-hour Rush radio special and a commercial picture disc have been slated by Mercury to provide exposure for the album, which is scheduled for release this week.

Two merchandising pieces for in-store display have been created, including a four-color mobile as well as a three-foot square color poster. Additionally, a four-color poster included in the album package will be made available for retail displays.

An advertising program has been developed featuring consumer and trade publications, plus local radio advertising spots. Also, a one-hour radio special, featuring interviews with the three members of the group, as well as music covering Rush's career, is being offered to radio stations.

Plans are underway for the introduction of Mercury's first commercial picture disc in conjunction with the album, which will carry a list price of $13.98.

Also in support of the LP, the group is embarking upon a national tour which will begin in the northwest on Nov. 6.

Snail LP Cover Wins Art Magazine Award

LOS ANGELES — The album cover design of Cream recording group Snail's debut album, entitled "Snail," has been awarded a Certificate of Distinction in the Creativity '78 Artshow, sponsored annually by Art Direction magazine. Out of 10,000 entries, 800 are selected for the certificate.

The snail shell design and logo was the concept of artists John LePrevost and Gene Brownell. Together the duo had previously won a Los Angeles art directors gold media for the Rick Nelson "Rick Sings Nelson" album and collaborated on the album cover design for the first J.S. released Wishbone Ash album.

ON JAZZ

Carmen McRae and Al Jarreau headlined the soldout Irene Kral Memorial Concert Oct. 9 at Los Angeles' Roxy Theatre. Kral, who died of cancer Aug. 15, was a two-time Grammy nominee and one of those rare vocalists whose talent was on a par with the musicians she worked with. Other participants in the star-studded concert included Willie Bobo, Monty Budwig, Alan Broadbent, Frank DeLa Rosa, Bill Henderson, Dave Mackay, Jack Sheldon, Mike Wofford, Nick Ceroll and Irene's brother and one-time sister-in-law, Roy Kral and Jackie Cain. KBCA air personality Jim Gosa, L.A. Times jazz critic Leonard Feather and drummer Shelly Manne were the guest MCs. Proceeds from the concert, which was sponsored by Musicians Wives, Inc., will be used to establish a scholarship fund for Irene's daughters, Jody and Melissa.

Grover Washington displayed his incredible lungs at a recent Santa Monica Civic performance that had the SRO crowd roaring its approval as if it was a rock 'n' roll show. Accompanied, as usual, by his superb six-piece band Locksmith, Washington proved once again that he is indeed one of the great contemporary sax players. It was only the second stop on his tour in support of his new "Reed Seed" LP on Motown, but the material sounded polished and the tour should increase Washington's already large following.

The festival season has come and gone but echoes still linger in a book, with the awkward title: "Dizzy, Duke, The Count And Me: The Story of the Monterey Jazz Festival" by Jimmy Lyons. The book, with many photographs and illustrations (by David Stone Martin), contains three sections of text devoted to 1) Lyons' own recollections of the festival 2) a recap of festival programs that lists all the performers in the 20-year history of the event and 3) critical reaction to the festival and its performances.

The book is an easy reading, with Lyons' own story told in a breezy, unpretentious style. Some of his anecdotes are quite funny, while others graphically illustrate the problems of dealing with great artists. Layout is superb, and, apart from a few minor errors of fact and some misspelled names, the work is highly recommended.

Illinois Jacquet burned through the Village Vanguard last week, Illinois' latest LP is on Classic Jazz (Illinois Jacquet with Wild Bill Davis).

Singer Helen Merrill off on a European tour. She just closed London and will be appearing in Amsterdam early next month.

Doug Harris, acting PD of WRVR-FM, leaves the station Oct. 27.

Jack Kleinsinger continues to roll at NYU. Oct. 26 will be the date of his next "Highlights in Jazz" concert, headlined by Billy Taylor. Guests include Frank Foster, Harold Mabern, Frank Wess, Ted Curson and Jon Faddis.

National Public Radio has a top-rated show on its hands. It is the "Jazz Alive" series mentioned here several times. Upcoming broadcasts will feature Carmen McRae from Los Angeles and Lionel Hampton from France.

Inner City's latest is a double Johnny Griffin recorded live in Tokyo. bob porter

Corea To Perform Benefit Concerts

LOS ANGELES — Polydor recording artist Chick Corea will perform two benefit concerts with proceeds going to California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr.'s committee for Narconon. The two shows will be Nov. 15 at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium and will feature Corea, bassist Stanley Clarke and drummer Tony Williams, with others to be named later. Narconon is a rehabilitation program for drug and alcohol abusers.

JAZZ ALBUM PICKS

MANHATTAN SYMPHONIE — Dexter Gordon — Columbia 35608 — Producer: Michael Cuscuna — List: 7.98

This one has been long awaited, since it showcases Gordon's travelling group of the past 18 months. Dex wails throughout the six-tune set, and the rhythm team of George Cables, Rufus Reid and Eddie Cladden lends lustrous support. "LTD" should get strong play, as should "As Time Goes By," another Gordon ballad classic. Dexter has been a solid sales item on Columbia, and this should continue that trend.

THANK YOU . . . FOR F.U.M.L. (FUNKING UP MY LIFE) — Donald Byrd — Elektra 6E-144 — Producer: Donald Byrd — List: 7.98

Jazz trumpet man Donald Byrd spreads his musical wings and heads for the land of funk on his first effort with Elektra/Asylum's Jazz/Fusion division. The eight cuts on the album find Byrd not only blowing his horn over highly-danceable background rhythms, but vocalizing as well. This conceivably could wind up with as much R&B airplay as it will jazz, as Byrd covers slow funk, medium tempo funk and fast funk, all with equal aplomb.

NIGHT TRAIN — Jimmy Forrest — Delmark 435 — List: 7.98

The title tune is one of the genuine classics of the past twenty-five years, but the entire twelve-tune set bristles with authority. Music stems from the early '50s, but this is the first time it has had LP exposure. Other strong items include "Hey Mrs. Jones," "Sophisticated Lady" and "Bolo Blues." Should be a solid programming item for jazz, R&B or oldie formats.

WE ALL HAVE A STAR — Wilton Felder — ABC AA-1109 — Producer: Wilton Felder, "Stix" Hooper and Joe Sample — List: 7.98

Woodwind man Wilton Felder steps away from the Crusaders for this, his first solo outing. Side one sets the tone for the album with its quiet, unpretentious title tune, featuring Felder handling bass and woodwind duties and Khabir Ghani on a fluid Stevie Wonder-ish vocal. With the emphasis here on melody, the album should follow recent efforts by George Benson and Chuck Mangione in gaining jazz, pop and R&B acceptance.

HOW LONG HAS THIS BEEN GOING ON — Sarah Vaughan — Pablo 2310 821 — Producer: Norman Granz — List: 7.98

Without question the best Sarah Vaughan LP in many years, this one puts her out front with the likes of Oscar Peterson. Joe Pass, Ray Brown and Louis Bellson. Ten titles (all good songs) and the exemplary support bring out the best in Sarah. Next time, how about some horns?

ALTO MADNESS — Richie Cole — Muse MR5155 — Producer: Eddie Jefferson — List: 7.98

Richie Cole is a young alto player of whom Phil Woods once commented, "There is no question in my mind he will contribute greatly to the music and to the alto sax." He lives up to that praise on this LP by exhibiting a technique matched only by his range of expression. These nine charts span straight jazz, avante garde, swing, be-bop (on the particularly hot rendition of "Last Tango In Paris") and Latin-flavored ballads. His six-man combo provides top-notch support.

a chain, they're obviously giving you a broad overview. But an individual store manager will tell you his specific problems, whether it's a lack of display materials or production problems or trouble with the distributor. So any type of format that unites 12 to 15 of these people is not only productive but of overall benefit to the industry as a whole."

Echoing Smith's comments, Ron Piccolo, northeast regional vice president of marketing for CBS Records, said, "The chains that brought their department managers did a smart thing, because that's the involvement both CBS as a manufacturer and NARM as an organization are looking for."

Piccolo also noted that "sometimes we're overambitious in our attempt to supply the retailer with in-store materials when he has no room for them. So we use these meetings as a way of getting feedback to better define the individual needs of each store manager."

He added that executive retail management was particularly concerned that, if CBS' entire $7.98 line increases one dollar, the consumer might be reluctant to pay a shelf price of $7.49 or $7.79 for a catalog item that is three or four years old.

Meanwhile, NARM is also continuing its efforts to benefit the industry in other ways. Cohen told the New York gathering that considerable progress has been made on several major new programs that were announced at the last NARM convention in New Orleans. For example, he said, Dr. Rachman has nearly completed a manual for Retail Managers Certification Program. The five-day sessions in this program will apply modern marketing techniques to the training of store managers and their assistants.

Though an initial site for the program has not been set, classes will probably begin in late January or February of 1979 and will be staggered over several weeks time, according to Cohen. This will allow for participants to work up case studies so that they can apply what they've learned in class to their specific store situations. "The program will involve some role playing — it won't just be a dry lecture series," he commented.

A limit of 25 places will be open to independent and chain store retailers in middle-management positions; general retailers who want to learn about merchandising records will also be encouraged to attend.

Noting that "the school will move wherever the demand is," Cohen said that he hoped the program will lead to the eventual establishment of a NARM Institute which would provide an on-going training ground for store management personnel. He feels that this is one area that is sorely underdeveloped.

"The biggest problem facing the industry right now is the development of qualified individuals capable of assuming leadership roles at the retail level," he argued. "That's why recognizing the importance of mid-management executives to the future of the industry and then developing their interest is so crucial today."

The clinic will cost each student approximately $300. NARM is a non-profit organization, and the monies that are received by the clinic will be channeled back to members in the form of new programs. Once the certification program is established, Cohen said that he would allow for the possibility of renting Dr. Rachman's services to member companies that prefer the consultant to administer the text of the manual to personnel from a particular chain or store. This would enable Rachman to tailor the course to the specific needs of that company.

Rachman has been a consultant in the past to such general merchandise chains as J.C. Penney and to the Schwartz Brothers' Harmony Hut chain. He is currently a professor of marketing at the Baruch College of the City University of New York.

Another NARM project in the works is the preparation of bar coding brochures for the retailer and rack jobber that will explain what the Uniform Product Code (UPC) is as well as evaluating the cost and application to each category of members. The manuals are being written by Boston Associates under the supervision of Fred Humphrey and will be distributed to NARM members at the organization's upcoming convention in March. A formal audio-visual presentation illuminating the bar coding issue will be made at that time.

Cohen stressed that the slight differences in the texts of the brochures will be "based on need." For example, he pointed out that the rack jobber has no need for information concerning point of purchase since "the cash register is not his area of service. We want our membership to know all there is about bar coding at this point in time," he said, "which is why we're scheduling the regionals right after the convention, because we want retailers and distributors alike to see it as soon as possible."

NARM's committee on radio advertising (headed by Jim Tyrrell, vice president of marketing for Epic, Portrait, and Associated Labels, and John Marmaduke of Western Merchandisers) has also begun to meet and will present a film on the subject at the next convention. Cohen said that, instead of expanding on last year's "Marketing Music Through Effective Advertising Techniques" film presentation that highlighted the different "players" in the media mix, management decided to concentrate solely on the effectiveness of radio advertising. Future conventions will cover other mediums separately (such as television and print), so that NARM will eventually develop a library of films, available to both members and universities.

HELLO HELLO — A hectic schedule of important meetings which will affect the future of the disco industry are slated for November. The national meeting of regional record pool representatives will be held in Miami, Fla. Nov. 13-14. The expressed goal of the meeting is the formation of a national trade association which will be a giant step towards strengthening the pools' role and legitimacy in the industry. The elected regional spokespersons to attend that meeting are: EAST Jackie McCloy (Long Island Disco DJs) and Frank Lembo (Pocono Rec. Pool); SOUTH Bo Crane (Florida Rec. Pool) and Sundance (Seemingly Better Prod'ns Rec. Pool); WEST A.J. Miller (Southern Calif. Disco DJs Ass'n) and John Hedges (BADDA); MIDWEST Jim Thompson (Dogs Of War) and Sam Meyer (Disco-Texas). McCloy is preparing the agenda for the meeting and Crane is handling the arrangements in Miami. Label and trade reps will be invited.

Alec Costandinos

In preparation for the national meeting, Lembo of the Pocono pool is planning an eastern regional meeting for Nov. 6 at Some Place Else in Cherry Hill, N.J. to discuss with local directors their hopes for the national by-laws.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST DILEMMA — Michele Hart of Casablanca is calling a meeting of in-house label promotion reps to discuss what she sees as the proliferating conflict of interest problems with DJs and pool representatives who double as trade reporters and record mixers. Hart also feels that pool heads who work for promotion companies have compromised their objectivity. The controversial meeting is being proposed for Thanksgiving. Hart's suggestion for a location is Palm Springs.

Judy Weinstein of the For The Record Pool in N.Y. is planning a luncheon in mid-November and is also inviting the label in-house promotion people. That gives Judy about a month to beat her case of walking pneumonia!

NEW CLUBS — Rumor has it that Robert Stigwood of RSO and John Addison are planning to open a discotheque in mid-town Manhattan. The Monastery is another New York disco slated to open downtown next month. Do you like hot dogs with your disco? Well, try

ALEC COSTANDINOS — The Hunchback Of Notre Dame — Casablanca NB 7124 — LP

Costandinos is the prolific composer/producer who has been responsible for an entire catalog of Casablanca releases, most recently "Paris Connection." Conceptually dedicated to the famous novel, this work is a collection of short interwoven passages with names such as "Phoebus" and "You Are Accused Before Us." The feel changes dramatically as from the strings, horns and steady beat of "The Pope Of Fools" to gentle Spanish feel of "La Esmeralda." Snatches of talk develop plot. Side Two has longer tracks. "Gringoire And The Duke Of Egypt" has a tambourine beat with guitar work reminiscent of the fast flurries of John McLaughlin. "The Attack" has a commanding synthesizer passage. A complicated work, this LP is already being compiled into a 12" remix.

CERRONE — Cerrone IV The Golden Touch — Cotillion 5208 — LP

Frenchman Cerrone, a hitmaker on both sides of the Atlantic, delivers a new sizzler. Side One: "Je Suis Music" opens with an uncluttered arrangement of pounding beat and synthesizer coloration. Additional layers of keyboard, guitars and vocals build the tension. Horns add punch. "Rocket In The Pocket" has an interesting airy texture with suspenseful

Fifth Avenue on E. 58th St. in NYC. Downstairs is the disco, upstairs is Nathan's. Across the river in Cherry Hill, New Jersey, the old Latin Casino has been re-opened as Emerald City. (Phil Smith from the Pocono pool will be a DJ). A new club, The Ritz, is set to open in Houston with Ken Smith from Disco-Texas deejaying. A new Old Plantations has opened in Tampa. Center Stage will re-open Nov. 16 as Chicago's first private membership club. Owned by Chuck Chichester with Peter Lewicki deejaying and Sam McGil as engineer, the club will be open on Fridays and Saturdays.

NEW AND HOT — Rinder and Lewis are busy with St. Tropez' second LP "Belle Du Jour" slated for release on Butterfly in November. This time out the lyrics will be in French and English. The pair is also producing the new Le Pamplemousse LP on AVI which is set for release late this month. The LP is tentatively titled "Sweet Magic." "Coco Kane," a track receiving strong feedback, is going to be taken off El Coco's new album.

AVI is releasing this week a 11:54 12" promo of James Wells' "My Claim To Fame' which was produced by Ian Levine.

Casablanca will release Alec Costandinos' new album, "Hunchback of Notre Dame" on Oct. 26. A 12" promo will come out at the same time. A 12" promo remix of Pattie Brooks' "Heartbreak In Disguise" b/w "This Is The House" will be out this week. "Brighter Days" from Vernon Burch's "Loveathon" LP will be out next week.

Motown recently released Thelma Houston's new album, "Ready To Roll," with many cuts produced by Hal Davis. Barry Blustein of Motown has been on the road prepping for the album. He feels "Saturday Night, Sunday Morning" will be a monster cut. The Waters do backup vocals. Motown is also putting out a 12" in several weeks which will combine Diana Ross with Bonnie Pointer on the flip side.

Look for the "Voyage II" album in late October on TK. "Souvenirs" is a likely out to receive initial disco action. TK will release this week a 12" by Gregg Diamond with "This Side Of Midnight" b/w the LP title track, "Starcruiser." Marlin/TK will release a promo 12" by Boris Midney which distills the "Beautiful Bend" album. "At Midnight," a track from the new T. Connection album, is a likely choice for a 12". The Queen Samantha LP which features a Jim Burgess mix on "The Letter," should be out this week and the Fantasia "Sweet Sweet City Rhythm" LP will be out shortly on the TK distributed label Amazon. Finally, for TK, the new USA/European Connection LP will be out in November.

The second release on London's LeJoint label will be by the Beck Family. London also released last week a Zulema 12" with a Rich Rivera mix which brought up the tones and tripled the tambourine.

Prelude has set a Nov. 1 release date for the new Lorraine Johnson album, "I'm Learning To Dance All Over Again." "Feed The Flame" and the title cut are expected to be the hot initial cuts on the Moses Dillard and Jesse Boyce produced LP. Prelude also recently bought an LP by Lemon with Kenny Lehman producing and a 12" by Claire both of which will also be out in November.

STUDIO NOTES — Grey and Hanks are working on their new RCA album, tentatively titled "You Fooled Me." "Closer To Something Real" which features Melvin Webb and Eddie Brown on bongos and congas has a very strong rhythm groove. Look out for this one! Cell Bee is also in the studio finishing work on her new TK album.

PARTIES AND PEOPLE — Atlantic Records threw a party for Cerrone at Xenon in NYC on Friday the 13th (not to worry). Among the various fire-eaters, cone heads and pantomimists present were representatives from radio, record stores and the disco industry. Approximately 700 guests attended and danced until four in the morning. Cerrone videotaped the proceedings himself . . . Audrey Joseph has joined MK Productions as the head of the New York office. Joseph used to be with ProMediaMotion and Arria Productions . . . Roy Thode a DJ from the Ice Palace in NYC will be visiting LA to spin at various clubs. . . . Scott Talarico is organizing a group of DJs in Ft. Lauderdale and hoping to establish a "communications organization" to interface between DJs and the club owners. Jim Knapp of the Tampa pool was recently on an ABC-affiliate TV show, "The John Eastman Show."

SIGNINGS — The first two groups to sign to the new Howard Smiley label which will be a Mushroom custom label are called Thunder Bay and Pompeii. A third group is unannounced.

strings and crowd noises. Guitar layers join and with the break comes horns and a rush of power. Side Two: On "Look For Love" a somber synthesizer opening brightens to a break with Cerrone talking/singing a love pop lyric. Strings sweeten. Moderate beat. "Music For Life" has a talkative keyboard line, percussion touches, moderate tempo without upfront kick drum.

MANU DIBANGO — Afrovision — Island 9526 — LP

Manu Dibango single-handedly transformed pop music in the summer of 1973 with his honking sax and pounding rhythms from "Soul Makossa." This new album has an exciting raw rhythm and lush horns and synthesizer from Frenchman Dibango. "Big Blow" opens with melodic sax work while the drums and ticking guitar provides funky backbeat. "Aloko Party" is another likely disco favorite. Both will be on a soon-to-be released 12". With a faster beat, it rides high. This is an album to check out for soaring instrumental moments.

ZULEMA — Change — London 3012 — 12" — 7:34

Zulema, formerly of Faith, Hope & Charity, has recently received several awards including "Most Promising New Artist" and this remix by the Queens, N.Y. resident shows why. An extended drum part and repeat for easy sequeing and the addition of clavinet played by Zulema mark the major differences from the LP cut. With several vocal passages dropped, the instrumental plays a most central role. Vigorous rhythmic undercurrents, flashing strings, punctuating horns and excellent singing make this a winner for the floor. 45 rpm.

CHARO — Ole Ole — Salsoul 202 — 12" — 8:17

Produced by Tom Moulton with John Davis, writer of the song, conducting and arranging this track features a fast beat of kick drum, flat rhythm strumming and funky keyboard work. At the hook, the guitars and castanets provide a Spanish feel. The instrument passage is hypnotic. Horns brightly led the way for the strings to rejoin the festivities. DJ promo copies are on candy pink vinyl. 33 rpm.

'Everybody's Doing It' Promotion Set To Air On WBOS

LOS ANGELES — "Everybody's Doing It . . . Who Does It Best" is the name of a nationwide disco promotion from Casablanca. Co-ordinated by Michele Hart, director of special projects for Casablanca, the project aims at maximum exposure for the label's fall disco releases through dance contests in 16 major cities throughout the country.

Casablanca is supplying the music and prizes for the dance contests which began in Atlanta on Oct. 15 and will run through early December. The Boston final of "Everybody's Doing It" will be aired Nov. 28 live on WBOS from the Future disco. Joe Carvello will deejay.

Contest kits for the discos include T-shirts, posters and the full line of records which are featured in the dance contests.

Grand prize winners in each city receive a year's disco record servicing from Casablanca, including 12-inch non-commercially available disco discs.

In arranging the contests, Hart received substantial assistance from local record pool representatives including Dale Pelegrino of BADDA, Frank Lembo and Frank Sestito from the Pocono pool and Artie Jacobs from the Southeast Record Pool in Miami.

'L.A. Disco' Opens At Palladium To A Crowd Of 2500

LOS ANGELES — More than 2500 people attended the first "L.A. Disco" event which was staged by Dave Kelsey and Audio Concepts Inc. at the Hollywood Palladium. For seven Friday nights, the Palladium is being transformed into what the promoters call "the world's largest disco" with a capacity for 4500 people.

Sunshine artist Delia Dance, JDC group The Glass Family and Ariola artist Deborah Washington, offered short lip-sync versions of their current hits.

The equipment set up which Kelsey cited as valued at $250,000 included a 40,000 rms watts sound system with a theater instrument lighting show powered by a generator which helped power the California Jam.

DJs Brad Blair from L.A. and Tim Rivers from San Francisco handled the Bozak mixers powered by Spectrosonic "Card" amplifiers. Klipsch "Industrial" speakers were used.

Due to delays because of problems with union workers, Kelsey and his technical crew did not have time for a dry-run rehearsal and as a consequence several advanced light and sound techniques were not utilized. Kelsey plans to have these problems solved by the next "L.A. Disco."

Admission is $10 per person.

ASCAP Awards Ceremony Honors Finest 1978 Efforts

NASHVILLE — The American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers held its 15th annual Country Music Awards Banquet last week. More than 800 songwriters, recording artists, publishers, producers and record company executives were on hand to witness the presentations made by Stanley Adams, ASCAP president, and Ed Shea, southern regional executive director.

Bob Morrison, who won six individual awards, was saluted as the ASCAP Country Songwriter of the Year. Polygram publishing companies Chappell and Co. and Intersong Music were named ASCAP Country Publishers of the Year.

There was a three-way tie for Artist of the Year and a six-way tie for Producer of the Year. The winning artists were Lynn Anderson, Kenny Rogers and Bobby Borchers. Producers sharing the top prize were Norro Wilson, Billy Sherrill, Tom Collins, Eddie Kilroy, Jerry Kennedy and Larry Butler.

A highlight of the awards banquet was the multi-media audio-visual show that accompanied the presentations. The show was produced by ASCAP assistant regional director Merlin Littlefield, Connie Hurt, Judy Gregory and Rusty Jones, who also assisted Shea in organizing and staging the entire gala.

ASCAP president Adams told the gathering that "more and more the music we honor on these occasions is literally the music of the American people — urban and country, north and south."

We're proud of our country!

And who wouldn't be? In 1978, the Chappell and Intersong Nashville Division was more dynamic than ever. We've just won 10 ASCAP and BMI awards and were named ASCAP COUNTRY PUBLISHERS OF THE YEAR. In fact, we've been so busy we even moved into enlarged new offices at 21 Music Circle East.

Our thanks to the many artists, producers and special friends who have helped us this year and, of course, to our talented writers Charlie Black, Rory Bourke, Len Chiriacka, Gene Dobbins, Jerry Gillespie, Rick Klang and Bud Renaud.

We're proud!

DON WILLIAMS (ABC AB-12425)
Tulsa Time (3:06) (Bibo Music— ASCAP) (Danny Flowers)
Don Williams was voted CMA Male Vocalist Of The Year and through the help of Jim Halsey, is exploding on the national scene. Although this upbeat tune is not parallel to other Williams material, he can definitely relate to "Tulsa Time."
LORETTA LYNN (MCA MCA-40954)
We've Come A Long Way, Baby (2:02) (Twitty Bird Music — BMI) (L.E. White/Shirl Milete)
Just as Loretta shook the nation with "The Pill" some years back, she will support women's lib with this tune penned by L.E. White. Pure country style and produced by Owen Bradley.
DON CHERRY (Monument 45-269)
Play Her Back To Yesterday (2:44) (Music City Music — ASCAP) (Bob Morrison/Michael Hughes)
A refreshing voice from the past. Don has been releasing singles, but none have been as strong as this new tune written by Bob Morrison and produced by Larry Butler. Cherry is definitely in tune with today's radio sound.
JOE STAMPLEY (Epic 8-50626)
Do You Ever Fool Around (2:44) (Rogan/Mullet Music — BMI) (D. Griffin/J. Strickland)
This cut is from Joe's album "Red Wine And Blue Memories." It is a spin-off from his last Top 10 single, "If You've Got Ten Minutes." Distinct Stampley vocal work and smooth melody.
PEGGY SUE (Door Knob DK-8-079)
How I Love You In The Morning (2:11) (Lodestar Music — SESAC) (Ed Jonew/Elaine Rhoades)
Peggy Sue is a consistent chart contender and this active upbeat tune should place her higher than ever on playlist and radio reports.

SLEEPER WHEREVER I FALL — Bobby Bare — Columbia — KC-35645 — Producer: Kyle Lehning and Steve Gibson — List: 7.98
Talented artists may experience a recession at some point in their careers, but sooner or later they bounce back with fresh vitality. Such is the case with Bobby Bare. He slumped for awhile, but now he seems rejuvenated and this LP is well-stocked with interesting material, creative production and the warm rustic vocals of Bare himself. Bare puts the most into "Sleep Tight, Good Night Man," "Goin' Up's Easy, Comin' Down's Hard" and "On A Real Good Night."

GREATEST HITS, VOL. III — Johnny Cash — Columbia — KC-35637 — Produces: Various — List: 7.98
Most artists are lucky to generate enough single hits for one "greatest his" album. It is a high tribute to Johnny Cash that Columbia has released his third "greatest hits" package. In every sense of the word, Cash is a giant in this industry, and the songs here attest to his continual growth as an artist. Perhaps Cash's greatest talent is his intelligence, honesty and taste in picking material which moves him emotionally, regardless of its commerciality or subject matter.

LARRY GATLIN'S GREATEST HITS — Larry Gatlin — Monument — MG-7628 — Producer: Larry Gatlin and Fred Foster — List: 7.98
After Larry Gatlin arrived in Nashville in the early 70's, he wasted no time in establishing himself as a major country writer and artist. Blessed with one of the purest voices in country music, Gatlin also writes all his own material. Each song here represents musical excellence in all respects. This LP is truly a "greates hits" package and includes "Broken Lady," "I Don't Wanna Cry," "Night Time Magic" and "Do It Again Tonight."

CONWAY — Conway Twitty — MCA — MCA-3063 — Producer: Owen Bradley — List: 7.98
As long as we have Conway Twitty, there is no danger of country music losing its identity. Conway has been and is currently one of the classic country vocalists and writers of all time. He has forged an individual style which has won him a solid legion of fans across the world. If not his best, this new album ranks with Twitty's finest work over the past few years. "Julia," a ballad with unusual chord progressions, is a refreshing departure for Conway. "Boogie Grass Band" and "Your Love Had Taken Me That High" are also included.

AT HIS BEST — Billy Swan — Monument — MG-7629 — Producer: Chip Young and Billy Swan — List: 7.98
In the late 60's and early 70's, Billy Swan was a running buddy of Kris Kristofferson and toured with him (still does). Then Swan wrote and recorded "I Can Help," which was one of the biggest country crossover hits of the 70's. Swan has never equalled the success of that record, but this album represents the best of the charming, soft rock 'n' roll which Swan handles so well. "Everything's The Same (Ain't Nothing Changed)" and "Number One" are strong cuts.

Grapevine Opry Holds Annual 'Susie' Awards In Ft. Worth

by Bob Cambell

FT. WORTH, TX. — The Grapevine Opry held its 3rd annual 'Susie' Awards here last week before a crowd of 2,000 and named singer/fiddler Shoji Tabuchi as its 1978 "Entertainer of the Year."

Highlighted by the appearance of "Hee Haw's" The Hager Twins, Nashville sessions pickers Johnny Gimble (fiddle) and Terry McMillan (harmonica), singer R.W. Blackwood and country music veteran Tex Williams ("Smoke, Smoke, Smoke That Cigarette"), six awards were presented between shows. A dinner complete with flowers flown directly from Hawaii preceded the two-hour show.

Serratt Honored

The "Male Vocalist of the Year" Award, presented by Blackwood and Boxcar Willie (1977 "Entertainer of the Year"), was awarded to Kenny Serratt. Serratt, who records for Hitsville out of Los Angeles, was absent because of an English tour. Serratt has charted nationally with "Goodbyes Come Hard For Me" and "Daddy, They Are Playing A Song About You."

Presented by Cathy Martindal, the "Female Vocalist of the Year" Award was won by Joy Newman, band director for The Grapevine Opry — located in the town of Grapevine between Dallas and Ft. Worth.

Davis Bros. Top Group

"Group of the Year" Award went to The Davis Brothers. The Hager Twins, who also performed, presented the "Susie" trophy, which is named after Mrs. R.L. Slaughter. Known as "Aunt Susie" by patrons of The Grapevine Opry, Mrs. Slaughter finances The Opry and is the guiding spirit behind the Opry's success.

Presented by Gimble and McMillan, the "Instrumentalist of the Year" Award was won by Bob Myers. Myers, saxophone and clarinet player for the Opry House Band, played with Dewey Groom's Band at the Longhorn Ballroom in Dallas for eight years.

The Opry's "Gospel Group of the Year" Award was given to The Masters Four Quarter. Presented by Bruce Sifford, the gospel award was a new category this year. The Masters Four, with four albums in their catalog, also have recorded a live album at The Grapevine Opry and have toured with Anita Bryant and Roy Rogers and Dale Evans.

Chisai Childs and Johnny High, co-hosts of The Grapevine Opry, also acted as Mistress and Master of Ceremonies for the awards show. Niece of "Aunt Susie" Childs is the sole owner of the Opry complex, which also houses a 16-track, in-house recording studio, a newspaper, a publishing company and a record company. The eight-piece Opry House Band entertained and backed-up visiting entertainers.

Williams Performs

Among the entertainers was special guest Tex Williams, whose "Smoke, Smoke, Smoke That Cigarette" was the first million-selling single for Capitol Records. Williams performed that number and "My Window Faces The South," both of which he wrote.

NSAI Songwriters Honored

NASHVILLE — The Nashville Songwriters Association, Int. (NSAI) kicked off DJ Week Oct. 15 with its ninth annual Songwriter's Awards Dinner and Ceremony and elected Hank Snow, Tom. T. Hall, Don Wayne and Joe Allison to its Hall of Fame. Attended by 450 music row executives and songwriters, the show was held at the Sheraton south here.

The President's Award, given each year by the current NSAI president for contribution to the NSAI goals, was presented to Wesley Rose by 1978 NSAI president Bob Jennings. The 1977 President's Award went to Hale Boggs, Jr., who assisted the NSAI in battling for the revision change in the music copyright law.

Songwriter/poet Billy Ed Wheeler acted as the main speaker and recited several of his poems, including "Songwriter and Town Drunk" and "On Growing Bald." The author of several country hit songs, Wheeler spoke of the friendship between Nashville writers. "When one writer has a hit, the other writers rejoice. They must say, 'gosh, Isn't it wonderful that he took that old worn-out idea and made a hit out of it."

Each Inductee into the Hall of Fame was presented the "Manny," a statuette bronze of a hand holding a pen.

Tubb Thanked

A veteran of The Grand Ole Opry and an RCA recording artist for 43 years, Snow has written and recorded countless classics, including "I'm Moving On." In his acceptance speech, he thanked Ernest Tubb for convincing Opry officials to hire him on the show. "For a solid year, Ernest took my records out of his store to the officials of WSM and tried to convince them we didn't sound alike."

Nicknamed "The Storyteller," Hall has written such hits as "Old Dogs, Children and Watermelon Wine," "The Year That Clayton Delaney Died," "I Love" and "Harper Valley P.T.A." Hall was one of five country artists who entertained this year at a White House reception for the Country Music Association. Hall was in Texas and his wife accepted the award.

Composer of "He'll Have To Go" and a former executive at Capitol Records here, Allison accepted his award and said, "knowing who voted for this . . . this is one of the happiest moments of my life."

MARGO & REED IN KANSAS — Warner Bros.' Margo Smith and RCA's Jerry Reed recently performed together at the Kansas State Fair in Hutchinson, before an estimated crowd of more than 30,000. Margo's latest single, "Little Things Mean A Lot," moves to #6 bullet this week on the Cash Box Country Singles Chart.*

SESAC Holds 14th Annual Country Awards Presentation

by Bob Campbell

NASHVILLE — The SESAC Licensing Organization held its 14th annual Awards Presentation last week in Franklin, Tenn. near here and presented awards of excellence in 10 categories, including "Heaven's Just A Sin Away" (written by Jerry Gillespie) as the SESAC "Most Recorded Song of the Year."

A highlight of the awards was the presentation of the Paul Heinecke Citation of Merit to the Country Music Association "in recognition of invaluable leadership in the international promotion and exposure of country music as America's own musical art form." CMA executive director Jo Walker accepted the award, which is named after SESAC's founder and is the most prestigious award given by SESAC. The Paul Heinecke Award has only been awarded three times: to Winfield Dunn, former Tennessee governor; the late Hubert Long; and to Irving C. Waugh, former president of WSM and now a vice president for Tree International.

Nearly 500 music industry leaders attended the dinner, awards presentation and dance, which also included a filmed "Birthday Salute to the Country Music Association."

In addition, nearly 75 individual awards were presented as "Certificates of Achievement" in recognition of the writer's contribution to country music during the past year.

Held on the stage of the Grand Ole Opry, the prestigious awards show was televised live by CBS in a 1½-hour national, prime time special. In the* top row of photos (l-r) are: Ovation's Jeannie and Royce Kendall, who won the "Single of the Year" award for "Heaven's Just A Sin Away"; RCA's Ronnie Milsap, winner of "Album of the Year" for "It Was Almost Like A Song"; Roy Clark, presenting Milsap his award; Parton; The Oak Ridge Boys Band, winner of "Instrumental Group of the Year". In the bottom row of photos (l-r) are: ABC's Don Williams, winner of "Male Vocalist of the Year"; Williams' wife Joy; Kenny Rogers' wife Mary Ann; United Artists' Kenny Rogers and Dottie West, winner of "Duo of the Year"; ABC's Clark, again the winner of "Instrumentalist of the Year"; Grandpa Jones, who was elected into the Country Music Hall of Fame; Glen Campbell, who entertained and presented the award; and Richard Sterban, Joe Bonsall, Duane Allen and Bill Golden of The Oak Ridge Boys, who won "Group of the Year."

THE COUNTRY MIKE

IT'S MIDWAY THROUGH CONVENTION WEEK — At presstime, Nashville is beginning to fill-up with jocks and radio folks from all over the country for one of the largest DJ conventions to date. Country Mike will have a complete report on the activities in next week's issue.

KSON CELEBRATES 15th — October is country music month . . . and it also marks the beginning of the 16th year that KSON/San Diego has been programming country music. Dan McKinnon and the entire KSON staff deserves a large round of applause for not only making the station a consistent winner in the San Diego market, but also for the tremendous support that KSON has given the country music industry the past 15 years. McKinnon, who has owned and operated KSON since '63, is a member of the CMA's board of directors.

Russ Knight

WWVA NAMES HAGGERTY — Robert Edward Haggerty has recently been named business manager for the WWVA Radio properties, including the Capitol Music Hall, Jamboree U.S.A., and WCPI radio. Haggerty replaces Ken Malafy*. WWVA Radio properties is a subsidiary of Screen Gems Radio Inc; which, in turn, is owned by Columbia Pictures Inc.*

PROGRAM DIRECTOR PROFILE — WHK/Cleveland recently hired Russ Knight to program the Mairite-owned station. Knight had also worked at WHK as the morning drive jock in 1968-69 under different ownership. Just prior to his returning to Cleveland, Knight was operations manager at WAKR/WAEZ in Akron. Knight started broadcasting in the '50s, when he worked mornings at WAKR/Akron; KBOX/Dallas; KILT/Houston; WXYZ/Detroit; WQAM/Miami and WAKE/Atlanta. He was also operations manager at KLZ/Denver for more than six years. When Knight worked at KILT/Houston, "The Weird Beard," as he was so affectionately known, had the highest rated night-time radio show in America, effectively capturing an average of no less that 62 percent of the Houston audience. Country Mike spoke with Knight last week to get his opinions on the air personality pay scale controversy. Knight says, "Country radio is going to have to go with heavier personalities, which calls for heavy salaries." Knight backs his words with facts, when you consider the high-caliber ratings and top personalities the station commands. Knight says that people like Don Imus, Gary Dee and Joe Finan have helped make WHK a well-respected station, another reason for their success.

Best wishes to Jacque Strickland*, air personality at WMC/Memphis, who finally returned to the air last week after she was attacked by a listener a few weeks ago.*

CORRECTION — WEEP/Pittsburgh did not broadcast the CMA Awards Show as we reported a couple of weeks ago. Pittsburgh's new country station, WWSW, aired the program.

Country Mike spoke with WWVA's Bob Berry the other day about the heavy amount of product being released by the record labels these days. Berry brought up a very interesting point when he said that most of the record companies will put out all their heavy product between now and Christmas, which won't leave a whole lot left after the holidays. Berry says he has discovered a good way to avoid getting in a "musical rut" during the slack-time. He says he'll cut his playlist and program more oldies. Let us know your thoughts on the subject.

Thanks to WDAF/Kansas City MD "Moon" Mullins, who sent in an interesting article on K.C. radio. The article focused on the ratings battle going on between KMBZ, KFIX and WDAF. The story quoted WDAF GM Dave Martin as saying, "The good news for us is that everything is just as it is . . . We have no major shake-ups. We will continue to operate the same way we have over 18 months because it is working well. We've got continuity. We would like to think most of the changes are behind us." The real battle is between WDAF, with an 18 share, and KMBZ, who got a 22 in the last ARB.

ARB ??? — Yes . . . as you well know, the fall ratings began last week. Be sure to let Cash Box know what you are doing to help boost your numbers.

For the first time. the Country Music Association has officially recognized the Federation of International Country Air Personalities, and will include them in this year's CMA birthday activities. Commendations to FICAP's leader Georgia Twitty for the fine work she has done for the organization and for country radio.

WDEE/Detroit bought a full-page ad in the October 15 midwest regional section of Time Magazine. The headline for the ad reads, "Our Country Is Getting Better."

With Cash Box recently expanding our list of country reporting stations, it is evermore important that we receive your playlists in our Nashville office no later than Monday of each week. If we're not currently on your mailing list, please start sending your weekly playlists to Cash Box*, in care of Tim Williams . . . 21 Music Circle East . . . Nashville, Tennessee . . . 37203.*

WAXX FACTS — WAXX/Eau Claire recently sponsored two shows featuring MCA's Conway Twitty*, and WB's* Margo Smith*. WAXX MD* Tim Wilson reports that both shows were sell-outs. Also in attendance at the concert were Warner Bros. VP and director of country music Andy Wickham, and WB national country promotion director Stan Byrd. By the way . . . WAXX's latest ARB shows them the overwhelming preference for radio listeners in eleven counties.

— Gospel Reviews —

THE BILL GAITHER TRIO — "The Very Best Of The Very Best" — Word: WSB-8804 Producer: Bob MacKenzie and Donny McGuire — List: 6.98

When you call an album, "The Very Best Of The Very Best," you've stepped out on the tip of the limb. But "The Gaither Trio" is not being ostentatious or pretentious. Bill and Gloria Gaither and Gary McSpadden are the very best. For the half-dozen or so Gospel music afficianados unaware of the Gaithers, you are in for a real treat. For their millions of fans, who know what to expect and who know that classics such as "He Touched Me," "The Church Triumphant," "There's Something About That Name," are timeless treasures, this album is a must. And The Gaithers have included a new gem called, "I Am Loved," that will take its place alongside the rest.

TRUTH — "Departure" — Paragon: PR33057 — Producer: Bob MacKenzie — List: 6.98

Regardless of personal preference concerning musical recordings, there is no debate relative to what method of mastering produces the highest quality. Direct-To-Disc recording does, however, present major problems. Essentially, the artist cannot make any mistakes or the entire process has to start over. Few groups or "stars" on today's electronic musical scene would even attempt such an endeavor. But the 19-member, award-winning group "Truth" has utilized this concept and conceived a remarkable record. Appropriately entitled, "Departure" is just that — a departure in that technical interference is minimized and a departure in that the sound is encompassing. You feel like you're front row center at a "Truth" concert.

Blacks Making Strides In Top Level Management Positions

by Cookie Amerson

LOS ANGELES — Prompted by an usual number of upper echelon record company management changes in the early part of last year, a Cash Box survey showed blacks to be considerably less mobile than their counterparts. (Cash Box, April 23, 1977) This year, however, movement by blacks seems to parallel that of their white counterparts in upper management levels, with a noticeable trend towards more label ownership by blacks.

Last year's survey revealed six black record company presidents: Clarence Avant, Taboo; Norman Whitfield, Whitfield Records; Gamble and Huff, Philadelphia International; Henry Allen, Cotillion Records; Cecil Holmes, Chocolate City Records and Al Bell, ICA Records. Joining them this year are Logan Westbrook who started Source Records; Hilary Johnson who started Hiltak Records with Tom Takayoshi; and Cecil Barker, who heads Venture Records.

From a sales standpoint, Whitfield Cotillion and Philadelphia International have been turning out gold and platinum records with regularity. Chocolate City and Taboo Records also have been posting consistent sales, with ICA Records being very quiet for almost a year.

Among the newer companies, Source and Hiltak Records have not released any product. But Venture Records, owned by Barker, an aerodynamics businessman from Washington, D.C., is jumping right out of the box with a single bulleting up national trade charts.

A number of blacks have left top level management positions to form their own companies. Hosea Wilson, for example, after a lengthy tenure at 20th Century-Fox Records, formed Zay Productions. Similarly, Richard Mack, a CBS Records veteran, left that label to form Natures Music.

Continuing to serve as label vice presidents are Noreen Wood, vice president of Atlantic Records, and Otis Smith, who returned to the industry after a several month hiatus to be Ariola Records vice president. In addition, Billy Bass was recently promoted to vice president of promotion for Chrysalis Records.

Black Sr. VPs

Another development this year has seen a move towards more blacks being elevated to senior vice presidential positions. Cecil Holmes attained the senior vice presidency of Casablanca Records. Harold Childs garnered the senior vice president

SUMMER IN THE MIDDLE — RCA Records president Robert Summer ventured to Los Angeles recently, where he attended a concert by RCA recording artist Evelyn "Champagne" King. Also on the bill were Lakeside, a new group on RCA-distributed Solar Records. Pictured backstage after the show with Summer is a group of Solar artists and executives. To Summer's right are George Webb of Solar; Dick Griffey, president of Solar Records; and producer Leon Sylvers.

THE RHYTHM SECTION

MAJOR DECISION — Bob Law will be replacing Sonny Taylor as program director of WWRL in New York. Law was promoted from the public service directors position at that station.

TOP SETTLEMENT — Rev. Jesse Jackson met with ABC vice president of talent George Reeves and Redd Foxx Oct. 11 to settle the $5 million lawsuit ABC has against Fox. Through the efforts of Rev. Jackson, the suit was settled with Foxx returning to ABC to fulfill his contractual agreement with the network. Foxx indicated that if it wasn't for Rev. Jackson's ability to mediate the differences he had with the company, he would not be returning to that network.

TAVARES/MARTIN COLLABORATION — A new single from the Tavares Brothers will be released the second week in November entitled "I Never Had A Love." The album entitled "Madame Butterfly" will be released after the first of the year, and was produced by Bobby Martin.

DASH-ing — Former Labelle songstress Sarah Dash is gearing up for a promotional tour to support her recently released single "Sinner Man," and her new label involvement with Kirshner Records. Dash will tour starting next month with a short hiatus during the holidays after which she will resume by performing in some key cities. A European tour is being planned for Dash, to commence in February 1979. Negotiations are also presently under way for her to tour with a very well known super group.

TOURING — Columbia Records artist Cheryl Lynn has started a promotional tour, for her debut album "Cheryl Lynn." The tour is scheduled to end Oct. 27, and will cover eight cities.

NEW TO YOU — Al Green's new album will be released Oct. 27. Green's talent as a producer and guitarist will be brought forth on this album which was, of course, done in his very own studio in Memphis. Title of the album is "Truth N' Time," with a forthcoming single "To Sir With Love." Another LP cut, "Wait Here," will be released as a 12-inch disco single.

BENSON & FOSTER — George Benson will appear on two tunes of the new album released by Ronnie Foster entitled "Love Satellite." Stevie Wonder will also appear on the LP playing drums on "Happy Song," and Roy Ayers will play the vibraphone on "Midnight Plane."

4,000 Coverage On Nashville

The American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) and Broadcast Music Inc. (BMI) held their annual country music awards ceremonies last week with sparkling dinner-awards shows which were attended by the elite of the country music industry. The ASCAP awards (Oct. 18) featured a dazzling multi-media presentation in which writers, producers, artists, and publishers were shown visually on a wide three-section screen above the stage. ASCAP named Bob Morrison as its "Songwriter of the Year," and Morrison won six individual awards. The Polygram Companies of Chappell and Co. and Intersong Music won "Publisher of the Year" for ASCAP.

BMI named "Here You Come Again" as its most-performed song, and the award was presented to writers Barry Mann and Cynthia Weil. Tree Publishing was the leading BMI publisher with 12 awards, and producer/writer Billy Sherrill was the individual top writer with five awards.

The activities under the banner of The Grand Ole Opry actually did not get underway until Oct. 18. The Early Bird Bluegrass Concert was held that afternoon in The Grand Ole Opry House and featured Bill Monroe, Wilma Lee Cooper, Jimmy Skinner, Jim and Jesse, James Monroe, The Lewis Family, Lily Mae and The Gospelaires, The Brocks, Mac Wiseman, Bobby Smith and The Boys From Shiloh, Wendy Smith and Blue Velvet and The Sullivan Family. The WSM and Grand Ole Opry Dinner and The Grand Ole Opry Spectacular followed the bluegrass concert. The Opry Show featured stars of The Grand Ole Opry. Immediately following the Opry Show, Sho-Bud, Baldwin and Gretsch Companies sponsored a show at the The Opry House which featured Chet Atkins, Roy Acuff, Ernest Tubb, George Jones, Shot Jackson, Donna Darlene, Calhoun Twins, Cooder Browne, Jim Exley and Lloyd Green.

Waylon Jennings and Johnny Cash also appeared in concert together Wednesday night (18) in the capacity-filled Murfreesboro MTSU Murphy Center. Many of the visitors and music executives attended the concert. And CBS Records shuffled guests from The Opryland Hotel to the concert in chauffered limousines.

RCA Records opened Thursday's activites with a morning brunch at The Opryland Hotel which was attended by RCA artists Waylon Jennings, Ronnie Milsap, Dave and Sugar, Charley Pride, Jim Ed Brown and Helen Cornelius and Dottsy in addition to other guests. The RCA show featuring Milsap, Linda Hargrove and Razzy Bailey followed at The Grand Ole Opry House.

Following the RCA show, MCA Records held its showcase with performances by Bill Anderson, Jerry Clower, Sonny Curtis, Merle Haggard, Mel Tillis and Bill Monroe. Running concurrent with record company showcases were private parties and receptions hosted by Republic Records, Mercury Records and Con Brio.

A myriad of private parties, showcases and dinners were held Thursday night. The FICAP banquet and show was held in the Hyatt Regency Ballroom, United Artists held its showcase in Municipal Auditorium (featuring Charlie Rich, Billie Joe Spears, Dottie West, Kenny Rogers, Crystal Gayle, David Wills and Bill Medley) and the SESAC awards were held at The Woodmont Country Club in Franklin, Tenn. SESAC named "Heaven's Just A Sin Away" as its "Most Recorded Country Song" and "Out Of My Head And Back In My Bed" (recorded by Loretta Lynn) as its "Country Single of the Year."

More Receptions

Friday night (19) the annual Country Music Association Banquet and Show was set for Municipal Auditorium. With DJ week in high gear, Nationwide Sound, Red Sky Productions, Elektra/Asylum Records, Republic Records and Inergi Records all planned receptions and cocktail parties in the hospitality suites of the Hyatt Regency and The Opryland Hotel during the day and night. Capitol Records also had scheduled its showcase at the Exit/In Friday night.

A second artist/DJ taping was set for Saturday morning in Municipal Auditorium to be followed by the Capitol Records Luncheon and Show that afternoon. Artists scheduled to perform for Capitol included The Tennesseans, Billy "Crash" Craddock, Suzanne Klee, Cliff Reynolds, Lee Dressor, Karen Wheeler, Gene Watson, Marcia Ball, Don Schlitz, Hank Cochran, Colleen Peterson, Kenny Dale, Mel McDaniel and Freddie Hart.

Following tradition, Columbia Records and The Grand Ole Opry were scheduled to end normal festivities Saturday night with their individual shows. Beginning with a dinner, the Columbia show was set for 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Municipal Auditorium with appearances by Lynn Anderson, Janie Fricke, Johnny Duncan, Moe Bandy, Barbara Fairchild, Charly McClain, Jody Miller, Johnny Paycheck, Louise Mandrell, R.C. Bannon and O.B. McClinton. The Grand Ole Opry show went from 9:30-midnight.

JMI Records, recently activated by owner Jack Clement, was scheduled to showcase its artists in a show at The Exit/In. Also, CBS Records president Bruce Lundvall was to host a private party for music executives at The Opryland Hotel following the Columbia Show.

An overlooked, but vital aspect of Grand Ole Opry Week is the funding of the Opry Trust Fund, which is primarily supported by the annual collection of one-half of the $35 registration fee for DJ Week into the fund. Since 1965, The Trust Fund has given away more than $600,000 to country musicians in time of need, emergency or catastrophe. Musicians are not required to be Grand Ole Opry members to receive this money.

CBS/Jet Suit

California about their defective condition.

Six Counts

For relief of their complaints on six counts, the plaintiffs are asking the court to make several judgements against Promo and Morris Levy. First, CBS and Jet want a permanent restraining order to enjoin "defendants, their officers, agents, representatives, servants, employees and all persons acting in concert or cooperation with them, or any of them from selling, distributing or otherwise disposing of all or any portion of the 'Out Of The Blue' albums now in defendants' possession."

Second, the plaintiffs want an order requiring the defendants to return the "Out Of The Blue" albums to them. Third, they want the court to award them "compensatory and punitive" damages and the costs of the suit to punish the defendants for having entered into a contract with MRG which would hurt the plaintiffs. And fourth, they are asking "for such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper, together with costs of suit."

Price Lists On Domestic LPs Would Boost Import Sales

several factors for the increasing interest consumers are showing in imports.

"Imports often have higher quality pressings and packaging," Delanoy said, "and with a lot of releases, we get the import three or four weeks ahead of the American release.

"Imports offer different songs in many cases that aren't contained on the American album," Delanoy added, "and that also helps boost sales."

He said Tower buys large shipments of imports directly from England two or three times a year, but for week-to-week purchases deals primarily with Jem Records and a few other smaller importers.

Image Changing

Bob Say, who works in Jem's Los Angeles office, said in the last couple of years, the image of imports has started to change.

"A lot of imports used to be aimed directly at an esoteric market," he said. "But now I would say imports are slowly losing the mystique of being a specialty item and they are becoming more of a mainstream product that everybody is buying. We are finding some albums are selling thousands of copies, where before we might only sell a few hundred of any given album.

"There's a lot of stuff coming out overseas that doesn't show up here aimed at the middle market. For instance, 'Best of Donna Summer,' or the 'John Denver Live in London' album which was never released here," Say added.

Lawler said Jem would like to be able to do more advertising to further broaden consumer awareness of what imports have to offer.

"But we are just a wholesaler, not a manufacturer, of records," Lawler said. "So we don't have the revenue coming back to us from the records like the labels do, so we can't do that much advertising."

Retailers Cooperative

Some retailers, however, have been cooperative in doing their own campaigns highlighting imports, he said.

"When $7.98's began to happen," Lawler said, "a number of retailers, on their own, did advertising, encouraging people to buy imports.

"It's been true for quite a while now that all kinds of stores carry imports," he said. "There is such a wide variety of imports, they no longer consist only of esoteric, European progressive bands or punk bands or anything like that.

"There is any kind of popular music you care to name available on import, the kind of records any store can sell. It doesn't have to be a specialty store or import store anymore," Lawler said.

In addition to scattered advertising by retailers, Say reported there are a number of radio stations throughout the country which regularly program imports into their playlists, further helping to increase the profile of imports in the American record market.

While prices of some of the higher list-prices American releases is now virtually the same as many imports, Say said he thinks the labels are not concerned with the competition.

"I don't think the American companies are worried about competing with imports, because we still don't sell that much, when you compare 100,000 units of one thing to 1,000 units of an import," Say commented.

It's not really competition," he said, "it's just another alternative piece of music for those who want it."

Black Executives

of the promotion division at A&M Records, after being with the label more than nine years. Larkin Arnold recently moved from Capitol Records to Arista Records as senior vice president of the R&B division for that label.

Continuing to stabilize in their positions are divisional vice presidents of the major labels. LeBaron Taylor is in his sixth year as vice president of the black music marketing division at CBS, while Jim Tyrell is in his seventh year as marketing vice president for Epic. Others include Tom Draper, in his third year as vice president of black music marketing at Warner Brothers; Hank Talbert in his fourth year as vice president of R&B promotion for Arista; and John Smith vice president of R&B promotion for ABC, with that company for two years.

Two most recent additions in this area are Mike Abbott, vice president of R&B promotions for MCA Records and Don Mizell, general manager, jazz fusion division at Elektra Records.

disco look. People wanted to go out and dress up and dance.

"We saw the demand and moved in," says O'Brien. "There was a lack of disco on the radio in this town and the Top 40s weren't even playing the crossover disco hits. Denver stations don't like to play 'east coast' music and most programmers here put disco in that category."

Other stations that were programming black formats had to make only minor adjustments to create disco formats when they saw the demand in their markets.

"Disco just caught up to black stations," says Bill Chatman, general manager of KNOK/Ft. Worth. "For us to go disco was just a subtle change from our previous black format."

Fore Runners

Many observers see the success of WBLS/New York as one of the early keys to the current growth pattern of disco radio. Programmer Hal Jackson made the station the most listened to FM station in the nation by mixing substantial amounts of disco with R&B, jazz and pop styles.

More recently, WKTU/New York has created a sensation in the Big Apple with its disco format, while KUTE in Los Angeles has been getting impressive ratings results with its disco format. The success of these high-profile disco stations has given encouragement to stations in almost every major market and many secondaries as well.

'Upward Trend'

"There is a definite upward trend in the growth of disco radio," reports independent disco promoter Tom Hayden. "The midwest is traditionally the last to get on the Bandwagon, but now stations like KFMX/Minneapolis are following the forerunners into the disco field. The midwest has discovered disco."

So has the rest of the country, if the number of disco stations popping up in recent months is any indication. Among stations now programming primarily disco music are: WJPA/Pittsburgh, WXYV/Baltimore, WKTK/Baltimore, WHRK/Memphis, WDLB/Marshfield, Wisc., WGCI/Chicago, WCAU/Philadelphia, WBOS/Boston, WGPR/Detroit, WKTU/New York, OK100/Washington, D.C., Studio 107/Miami, V103/Atlanta, KDKO/Denver, KNOK/Ft. Worth, KFMX/Minneapolis, KSFX/San Francisco, KHYS/Port Arthur, KXYZ/Houston, KXTC/Phoenix, KSET/El Paso, KHNY/Riverside, Ca., and KUTE/Los Angeles.

Many more stations have set aside special time slots exclusively devoted to disco, often airing these segments without commericals. Y100 in Miami is one station that has been particularly successful with this method.

Westwood One, the Los Angeles-based syndicator headed by Norm Pattiz, is planning to capitalize on disco's growing radio acceptance by distributing "American Disco." The three-hour weekly series, hosted by Kris Erik Stevens, has already signed up approximately 65 stations for the show's debut in early November. According to Pattiz, most of the stations set to air "American Disco" are rock stations looking for a block of disco programming for Saturday nights. Stevens has been hosting a similar program on Armed Forces Radio for the past year.

Studio West in Newport Beach, CA. is also moving into disco. The company is the first to offer a syndicated disco format to stations, supplying them with a disco library, weekly and monthly updates and customized station image packages. KHNY is the first station to subscribe.

Burkhart/Abrams

The person most frequently credited with engineering WKTU's move into disco is Wanda Ramos, formerly of WBLS and now with the Burkhart/Abrams consultancy. Ramos is handling the company's disco consultant business, which now includes three southwestern stations, KNOK, KXTC and KSET.

KNOK is now airing a new disco show that may soon be heard around the country. It's called "Disco Connection" and it features the top three picks selected by leading disco DJs around the country. The show is produced by Dewayne Dancer and so far includes picks from Studio 54 in New York, Valentino's in Cherry Hill, N.J., Dr. Richards' Lab in Monterey, Ca., and clubs in Austin, Houston, Chicago, Montreal and Toronto.

While much of the music industry is battling the problem of tight playlists, disco stations have developed a reputation for exposing new product. In turn, record companies are putting out a steadily increasing stream of disco product, much of which is finding acceptance in the pop marketplace.

In fact, 15 percent of this week's Cash Box Top 100 Singles Chart is made up of disco-influenced records. These include #3 bullet "MacArthur Park" by Donna Summer, #15 "Boogie Oogie Oogie" by Taste Of Honey, #19 "Get Off" by Foxy, #20 bullet "I Love The Night Life" by Alicia Bridges, #34 "Themes From The Wizard Of Oz" by Meco, #39 "Ease On Down The Road" by Diana Ross and Michael Jackson, #41 bullet "Dance (Disco Heat)" by Sylvester, #60 bullet "I'm Every Woman" by Chaka Khan, #70 bullet "Instant Replay" by Dan Hartman, #74 bullet "Y.M.C.A." by Village People, #75 "Shame" by Evelyn "Champagne" King, #85 bullet "In The Bush" by Musique, #87 bullet "Le Freak" by Chic, #90 bullet "Do You Feel Alright" by K.C. & The Sunshine Band, #99 "Miss You" by the Rolling Stones and #100 "Hot Shot" by Karen Young.

But despite the growing impact of disco on the radio, many members of the fledgling disco industry believe that the style is just beginning to take hold.

Just A Baby

"Disco on the radio is just a baby right now," says Hayden. "But within a year at least one station in every major market will play substantial amounts of disco. The enormous sales generated by disco are showing up on store reports to stations and many are being forced onto disco records.

"There used to be outright hostility to disco records, but disco is no longer a dirty word."

Some programmers disagree with Hayden. Roy Perry, music director at WCAU which programs a disco-oriented "Rhythm Sound," says his station still doesn't use the word "disco" on the air. Bill Tanner, program director at Y100 where late-night disco shows have done very well, indicates that only recently has the word "disco" become acceptable on the air.

But whether they use the word or not, radio programmers today find it very difficult to hold out against the disco trend if they want their station to have mass appeal. The phenomenal success of "Saturday Night Fever," which has sold 15 million copies in the U.S. alone, and Top Ten singles such as "Miss You," "Shame" and "Boogie Oogie Oogie" have convinced most music people that disco as a musical style has arrived.

Licensing Process For Plus Profits Items Grows Complex

out. Manufacturers are simply not so quick to go into their pockets right off the bat as they used to be." Nonetheless, guarantees, which were once uncommon, have become an increasingly accepted part of license agreements, most managers and merchandisers surveyed by Cash Box agree.

Once the agreement is signed, however, the legal problems of artist licenses are far from over because of the widespread bootlegging problem. Bickhart cites the "futility" of prosecuting the bootleggers, who sell products without a license, because of their "gypsy-like" tactics. "They're all over the place," Bickart says, "and when you go after them they just scatter back to their basements. They're fly-by-night operations, really, and even if you catch them, they have no records or bank accounts. And also, if you catch one, there's others who will just take their place."

Private Eyes Hired

Furano, in an attempt to protect his concert merchandising rights, has taken concrete steps to eliminate the problem. At a recent concert in Cleveland, Furano hired a local private investigator company to map out a strategy to stop the bootleggers. "It worked well," Furano related. "The company went in a week ahead and met with the Cleveland police to find loopholes in the law, so we could crack down on the pirates. And before the concert, our people physically went out and confiscated the shirts."

Elliot Hoffman opts for legal action against the bootleggers, and he has, in fact, instigated a number of successful suits against companies who have illegally used Peter Frampton's name and likeness. Yet Hoffman admits there is still a "feeling of resignation" toward the bootleggers in the industry. Hoffman believes that federal government intervention is the key to solving the problem. "The federal government has to get involved," Hoffman says. "They have to be as protective of name and license as they are of trademark and copyright."

'Limited' Licensing

While the industry agrees that pirates have to be stopped, the extent of artist license use varies widely from artist to artist. Vince Mauro, president of Bandana Enterprises, comments that the "limited" licensing of Peter Frampton's image is a deliberate move. "If you believe in someone as a long-term artist," Mauro says, "then you don't just want to capitalize and milk it dry, because in the long run, it just tarnishes the artist's image."

With Kiss, however, Lee Freidman feels differently, as is proven by the more than 150 products bearing the Kiss logo. "They're the biggest merchandised group in the world," according to Freidman, who continues, "we can afford to over-expose the group because there aren't enough outlets like radio to satisfy the fans, who are mostly between six and 18 years old."

Several distinguished guests, including Georgia Governor George Busbee and Carrollton Mayor Vince Cashen, in addition to many other CBS Records and local and state government officials, also witnessed this event.

At the ceremony, Burger said, "We expect to initiate the operation of our tape facility by mid-1980, and will begin to recruit personnel from your local communities by mid-1979. At that time we will also launch several training programs tailored specifically to the future needs of our manufacturing operation."

Latin Picks

MIRLA CASTELLANOS — Mirla 78 — Top Hits 2035 — Producer: Oscar Serfaty

Multi-talented songstress Mirla Castellanos is outstanding on this album of love songs and soft rock. Her voice is superb throughout this LP, which features some dazzling orchestrations. Great backing provided by the string section and background vocalists. The best songs in this album are "Que Tiene La Otra," "Porque El Amor Se Va," "Nana A Mi Negrito" and "El Mundo Seguira Girando Sin Nosotros."

LATIN DISCO-SALSA'S GREATEST HITS VOL I — Various Artists — Salsoul 5522 — Producer: Andy Kaufman

Here is an album put together by a bunch of all-stars on the Salsoul label. Every artist on this album deserves four stars for their performance on every song. Honorable mention for outstanding achievement goes to the following artists: Group Folklorico, Roberto Torres, Saoco, Machito, Joe Bataan, Conjunto Libre, Cachao, Chocolate, Graciela and Rey Roig.

BILLO 78½ — Billo's Caracas Boys — Top Hits 2037 — Producer: Carlos A Vidal

Again the orchestra of Billo's Caracas Boys stands out on this album. Veteran bandleader Billo already has numerous albums to his credits. But here he outdoes himself with this magnificent orchestra in cumbias, merengues, and boleros. The music in this album has commercial appeal and very tasty arrangements for a big band. The vocals are excellent. The best cuts are "Maracaibo Orient," "Piano Merengue," "Si Mientes No," "Sueno Carabali" and "Amaneciendo."

Green Concerned About Relationships Between Promotion Men, Radio Execs

LONDON — In an article in a UK trade magazine, Music Week, Derek Green, managing director of A&M Records, this week expressed deep concern over the relationship between record company promotion men and radio executives. According to Green, "the relationship between record promo men and radio people seems to have reached it's lowest ever point."

His article, directed towards the UK musicbusiness, cities both sides of an argument which has arisen from a situation causing constant friction between radio stations and record companies. On the one hand, radio executives are complaining heavily of the falling standards in promotional men employed by record companies. They see them as being "over aggressive, impolite and uninterested in the music."

To combat this agitation the radio stations have devised more formal systems for promotion men to conform to, such as making them wait in lines in corridors so the interviews would be short, as well as making them wear 'visitors' buttons and restricting them to appointment visits only.

On the flip side, according to Green, the radio promotion men find these formal systems 'dehumanizing'. "The most dedicated people doing promotion have started to find their job distasteful," said Green. "They are treated badly so they react badly. It is a vicious circle. Soon only the worst kind of impolite, overaggressive pluggers will want to do the job,.'

At the close of the article, Green discussed a possible solution to the situation. "If there is a solution it is not in restructuring the organizational system of either the radio stations or the record companies — it is much simpler. It is in the individuals on both sides taking responsibility for their own professional disciplines and conduct — the use of common courtesies and mutual respect. Hopefully, this would encourage the development of personal and professional relationships with each other."

EMI Profits Dip 50%

LONDON — Latest results of EMI Music Operation's profits indicate a slump of almost 50%. Pre-tax profits were nearly halved at 16.8 million pounds worldwide, compared to 32.7 million pounds worldwide last year.

At a recent press conference here, Sir John Read, chairman of EMI, said that North American sales in dollar terms had increased by 8% and turnover of the majority of other companies worldwide had exceeded the previous year.

Read outlined the chief reason for profit loss as being caused by competitive pressures, mainly from U.S. repertoire. He also blamed rising royalty costs, lackluster sales in Australia; losses from territories that at one time produced high profits, such as France, Germany and Holland; new heavy investments in a new distribution center in France and a new manufacturing plant in Holland.

RCA Acquires Dylan Catalogs For Spain

LOS ANGELES — RCA Publishing International has acquired sub-publishing to all of the Bob Dylan music catalogs for Spain and Portugal. The Dylan catalogs from Special Rider Music, Big Sky Music, Ram's Horn Music and Dwarf Music, all Dylan companies, include compositions by Dylan as well as early works by the Band.

COMMODORES GET U.K. GOLD — The Commodores were recently presented with gold discs by the UK Motown office in Miami, an hour before the group took the stage in front of 25,000 fans at the Miami Baseball Stadium. climbing the charts at a brisk pace. RCA is distributing the product in Germany, Holland and Scandinavia where a very efficient promotion campaign has been set in support of the album release. Cheryl took part of the Venice festival in Italy where she is distributed by EMI.

Negotiations are on for a UK and USA release which should occur very shortly.

Musidisc Records has moved to new quarters at 13/15 rue Pages, 92 152-Suresnes. Since the appointment of Alan Falchier to the position of international promotion man, the company is enjoying a break out in both the disco and national charts with the latest Sylvester album and single which along with Karen Cheryl is the hottest disco record this month.

When CBS recording group Weather Report entered the stage last Wednesday at the Pavillon de Paris, the last piece of the Ravel's Bolero (used to kick off the concert) had already conditioned the audience to enjoy themselves. Then the powerful first number from its "Mr Gone" album was greeted enthusiatically, which gave the four musicians an air of confidence which they kept for all of the performance. The song "Black Market" was enhanced by a myriad of sound effects and visual gadgets including a thick smoke wrapping the stage. Bass player Jaco Pastorius was the highlight of the show with his astonishing solos. Three encores climaxed the two-hour performance.

Also in town for a one-night performance at the Palace Theatre was Bette Midler, who entertained a very enthusiastic crowd for 2½ hours with an amazing repertoire which won her a standing ovation. On hand to greet Midler was WEA recording artist Michel Polnareff, who is currently releasing his first album in three years.

SYDNEY — Graham Bonnet will visit Australia this month, but will not be performing. The trip is to promote his new single, "Only You Can Lift Me."

Peter Frampton has formed a strong lineup for his Sydney concert in November. Two of Australia's top bands, Sherbet and Cold Chisel, will support him. A bonus for the date is the legendary English band, the Kinks.

Olivia Newton-John will play to packed audiences at the Regent theatre on Nov. 5.

A new Elton John album, titled "A Single Man," is expected to be released later this month. The LP will be available through Polygram.

Daryl Braithwaite will have his first solo album on the streets soon. The Sherbet vocalist's album, appropriately named "The Daryl Braithwaite Album," will be released through Festival on Sherbet's own Razzle label.

Also with a new album soon is the Ferrets. The group has been rather quiet since the overwhelming impact of their first single, "Don't Fall In Love," which was a number one hit.

The Little River Band has launched its home run concert tour of Australia on Queensland's Great Keppel Island. They just returned from a successful tour of the USA.

It took the promoters of David Bowie's tour less than two days to sell 20,000 tickets in Sydney alone.

COIN MACHINE

DISCO FEVER — Cleveland Coin International revealed the new Seeburg "Disco 160" phonograph to its operator customers during a three-day series of "road shows" covering the areas of Dayton and Cincinnati, Ohio as well as Huntington, West Virginia. Representing the distributor at the various showings were company president Ron Gold, Jack Alban, Dick Gilger and service technician Wally Rood. Total attendance was more than 150 people and, based on the success of the program, Ron Gold plans to utilize the "road show" concept for future new product showings. Pictured above are (l-r): Gold dancing to music supplied by Disco 16, and a portion of the guests on hand for the showing at Smith Music in Huntington, W. Va.

Gremlin Acquisition Boosts Sega Profile In U.S. Market

LOS ANGELES — The recent acquisition of Gremlin Industries by Sega Enterprises, Inc. signals a more aggressive manufacturing and marketing stance on the part of Sega, according to company president and chief executive officer David Rosen.

In an interview, Rosen outlined the reasons behind the Gremlin takeover, its impact in terms of product development and the marketing strategy for Sega-Gremlin. "We look upon the Gremlin acquisition as giving us, in addition to the manufacturing position we require in the United States, a vertical integration in the area of research and development with our Japanese subsidiary," Rosen says.

Added Strength

"Sega of Japan is probably responsible for producing more electro-mechanical games in the past 15 years than the rest of the industry combined. And although we have developed significant strength in solid-state technology over the past four or five years, we felt that the Gremlin acquisition would give us added strength in this area while providing the electronic engineering support we require."

Under an agreement finalized Sept. 29, Gremlin became a subsidiary of Sega Enterprises, Inc., which is also the parent company of Sega Enterprises, Ltd. of Japan. Sega Center game rooms are a division of Sega Enterprises, Inc.

The agreement was a straight stock-for-stock transaction, according to Rosen, who said key Gremlin executives will remain in place. These include company president Frank Fogleman, general manager Gene Candelore and Jerry Hansen, vice president of research and development-engineering.

"Gremlin Industries now takes over marketing responsibility for all Gremlin and Sega products," Rosen says. "This means that Sega of Japan-developed products will be manufactured by Gremlin for distribution here."

'Wild Fyre' Is New Pinball From Stern

CHICAGO — The current emphasis on backglass art and design is dramatically reflected in the latest four-player pinball machine from Stern Electronics, Inc. "Wild Fyre" is the name of the machine and the bold colorful graphics depict a scene from the Roman era, accentuated by the letters in the name erupting from tongues of flame.

The playfield has a bank of three drop targets at the top left for advancing score and earning double bonus; and four in the middle left which spell out the words W-I-L-D F-Y-R-E for extra ball and special. Players can collect bonus build-up via the top right eject hole; and the spinning targets, when lit, can advance score by 100 or 1000 points. There are three eject holes

Vari-Targets Enhance Appeal Of Gottlieb's 'Dragon' Pinball

CHICAGO — D. Gottlieb and Company is currently in full production on its latest solid state four-player pinball machine, "Dragon." Among the game's key play features is the factory's exclusive vari-targets, marking the first time they've been used by Gottlieb on a solid state four-player.

The new model is also distinguished for its eye-catching backglass graphics, portraying a macho maiden atop a fire-breathing dragon, and the unique electronic sounds which accompany play. As described by company executive Alvin Gottlieb, the "beauty and the beast graphics" are actually startling at first approach. Dragon has "a tough act to follow" in Gottlieb's highly successful "Close Encounters," he said, but "test reports indicate it's up to the job."

Other Features

The new machine has an advancing multiple 5X bonus which has a scoring capacity of up to 95,000 points and "provides an interesting challenge to pinball buffs," as pointed out by the factory's Tom Herrick. "Hitting rollovers and targets in the correct rotation produces the highest multipliers," he explained. For example, in the top series of A-B-C-D rollovers, the player can significantly increase the multiplier value by hitting the A and B first.

Dragon, which is convertible to add-a-ball, contains the noted Gottlieb/Rockwell electronic system and is available through Gottlieb distributors.

CHICAGO CHATTER

Local coin people were snocked and deeply saddened by the sudden death of Murray Greenblatt, president of Great Lakes Acceptance Corp., the Bally subsidiary in Southfield, Michigan. Greenblatt, who suffered a massive stroke, was 49-years-old at the time of his death. Many from this area, who considered him a friend as well as a business associate, attended funeral services. Our condolences to the Greenblatt family.

SINCE THE INTRODUCTION of the new Rowe R-83 phono line, Atlas Music Co. has been displaying the "Fiesta" and "Claremont" models for customers to view, informally, on a daily basis — and the response, as expected, has been just great. As the distrib's Sam Kolber pointed out to us, operators are especially pleased with the R-83's outstanding sound — and the fact that the 125-watt amplifier is standard equipment. No complaints about the price tag, either, on these exceptional 200-selection machines, he added.

WITH EVERYTHING JUST ABOUT SETTLED in the new space, the crew at Empire Dist., Inc. can now devote full energy to fall business and preparations for such upcoming conventions as AMOA and IAAPA. Present business is good, as we learned from Jerry Marcus, and he's very enthusiastic over the outstanding new pinball machines hitting the market — and the new Midway "Shuffleboard" and "Space Invader" video games.

BOB SHERWOOD of Meyer & Wenthe is putting the finishing touches to a specially designed medalion the firm will be offering as a give-away at the AMOA convention. It's called "Pinball Champ," appropriately enough, and from Bob's description it's quite an attractive looking piece. Additionally, Meyer & Wenthe will display a full assortment of tokens including some specialty items for arcades.

ON THE SUBJECT OF Midway's new "Shuffleboard," the factory's director of sales Larry Berke said "It's just the location game operators have been waiting for" — steady earnings, lots of play appeal.

AMONG THE PERFORMERS who'll be entertaining at this year's AMOA banquet, Nov. 12, are: Barbara McNair, Kenny O'Dell, Christy Lane, Ed Raven, the Ritchie Walton Revue and Tommy Wills. Billy Kelly is being welcomed back, after a three year absence, to emcee the show . . . As for Expo itself, AMOA's Fred Granger said we can look forward to another very big show this year — more exhibitors, and among them quite a number of newcomers who'll be exhibiting for the first time this year. Attendance is expected to surpass last year's record and there'll be more foreign firms exhibiting, from such countries as Italy, Japan, Germany, Spain, Switzerland and The Netherlands.

CALIFORNIA CLIPPINGS

One indication of the growing importance of the annual Japan Amusement Assn. show is the large number of American manufacturers and distributors who will be attending the event. The show, which got underway last week in Tokyo, drew representatives from virtually every west coast-based amusement game builder and a sizable contingent of distributor execs as well, including C.A. Robinson & Co. vice president Ira Bettelman.

WHILE ATARI IS, OF COURSE, being well represented at the Japan Show, the factory is steadily gearing up for the grand daddy of all amusement trade exhibitions, the AMOA Expo. In addition to previewing new equipment such as "Football," "Orbit" and "Space Rider," Atari will sponsor a sweepstakes that includes a bevy of exceptional prizes. Among them are: a "Super Breakout" game, Sony Betamax video unit and a color television set. Atari will also hold a contest to determine who is the best "Football" player at the convention. In all, the Atari exhibit will consume some 2,400 square feet of display space.

"DISCO FEVER," the colorful four-player pinball from Williams, is creating a lot of excitement at Circle International distribs, according to general manager John Scavarda, who noted that business in general currently is on the upswing

EASTERN FLASHES

Among the many irons in the fire at Bally Northeast-Syracuse is another series of Hurricane football tournaments, to be held in conjunction with Irving Kaye Co. Qualifying rounds will be in progress shortly, throughout the state. Distrib's Jack Shawcross also reports that current business is good, with Rock-Ola phonographs consistently in the sales spotlight over these past months. Hit video games include Midway's "Shuffleboard" and Atari's "Super Breakout." Irving Kaye's "Silver Shadow" pool table is another strong item; as is Bally's "Lost World" flipper — and they're anxiously awaiting delivery of "The Six Million Dollar Man."

NICE CHATTING WITH Rowe International's Walter Koch, who did such a fine job of coordinating the program for Rowe's recent meeting in Chicago. Walter had no sooner returned to the Whippany office when it was time for NAMA in Atlanta — and, after a brief respite, it'll be on to Chicago for AMOA.

SID GORDON OF Northern Star — Albany is ecstatic over the new Seeburg "Disco 160" phonograph — and so were all of the ops in attendance at the recent showing out there. Not only was this one of the distrib's most successful showings in recent years but Sid said it's been some time since operators displayed such enthusiasm for a new model! In the games department, United's latest shuffle alley "Aristocrat" is a strong seller; Williams "Disco Fever" and "Contact" are the hit pins; O.B.A. foosballs have been generating quite a bit of interest and Sid reported a surge in sales of Mirco's pinball cocktail table. Among service schools on the planning board are a Williams and a Seeburg session.

Meadows Markets 'Dead Eye' Video Shooting Game

LOS ANGELES — Meadows Games Inc., a Holosonics Co., announced that its new video game, "Dead Eye," will be available at the end of October.

Dead Eye accommodates one to four players and is based on a shooting theme. Players compete for high scores and the game has an operator-controlled extended play feature.

After pushing the Flip Coin button, the player must shoot the coin and keep it in the air while skillfully controlling the Dead Eye control and directing the coin into targets on the screen while also watching randomly appearing targets that reward high scores. The player's scoring ends when the Dead Eye allows the coin to fall to the ground.

Gremlin Takeover Boosts Sega's U.S. Market Profile

Jack Gordon, formerly based at Sega's Redondo Beach, Calif. headquarters, has moved to Gremlin's San Diego facility where he will oversee the expanded marketing operation. He will be assisted by Bernie Shapiro, formerly of Mirco.

Wider Product Spread

Rosen believes the synergism of Gremlin and Sega will result in a wider, more exciting product spread.

"Sega of Japan normally produces more than 20 different models," Rosen points out, "but in the past several years we have not had the opportunity to introduce a lot of these products to the U.S. marketplace. We now feel this will be possible, and with Sega's expertise in the electro-mechanical field and Gremlin's expertise in electronics, we should have a very wide range of products encompassing the best of both worlds.

"Sega operates some 30,000 pieces of equipment in Japan," Rosen continues. "This size operation, of course, gives us considerable expertise regarding the type of equipment that the operator needs and wants. Consequently, the equipment we produce is built with the operator in mind."

Rosen says that within 60 days the Gremlin facility will be equipped to handle all parts and service requirements for both Sega and Gremlin products.

framework and then allow the players free rein to express themselves. With direct-to-disc recording, we don't fool with creativity, limit it, edit it, technique it or bastardize it."

After gaining early experience with Sheffield Lab, pioneers in modern direct-to-disc, Weber developed a fascination for direct-to-disc which prompted a personal study of the various means of record pressing.

"Standard American pressings are a joke around the world. Technically, they are on par with pressings from Mexico. The surface noise level in many cases disturbs my appreciation of the music. The American industry addiction to quantity is so great that they simply don't care what the quality is. The attitude is ship as many as you can without regard to quality control. I don't think that is right. I think the customer is beginning to buy audiophile records to avoid the problem of poor quality pressing. Direct-to-disc offers me the chance to get back at my favorite enemy — American pressings."

Weber first decided to pursue producing a direct-to-disc recording after hearing a standard recording by Brown, Bellson and Smith in December 1977. At the time, Weber was a staff writer at Cash Box.

'Magic Words'

"This record came in and the music was great but the vinyl sounded terrible. I approached the musicians and they were interested. Then I proposed the project to several companies. Discwasher said the magic words — 'You do everything.' "

A firm believer in the adage "If you want it done right, do it yourself," Weber vigorously pursued all aspects of the project from developing the concepts of the musical framework to graphics of the album.

"My philosophy," says Weber, "is to treat the musicians, pressing people and plating people as the most important people. Because they are. An excellent recording can be lost by an inferior plating job, that is why I take all my records to Jim Shelton of Europa Disc Plating in New York. He is the best.

"A lot of musicians and producers are scared of direct-to-disc because they rely to such a great extent on 'fixing it in the mix.' With modern computer recording techniques which help pull miracles from so-sc musicians, some musicians are afraid of the requirements for direct-to-disc.

'Real Time'

"D-to-D recordings are done in 'real' time and cut a side at a time. The engineer has to react spontaneously with the musicians to ensure continuity over time for matters such as volume and the producer must have his ideas well in hand before going to the session. In the studio, I record six sides in a period of 12 hours and then seven or eight weeks later the album is released.

"Direct-to-disc is not sterile perfection but rather an exchange between the musicians. It emphasizes the performance."

Weber acknowledges that at this stage direct-to-disc does not afford large quantities of pressings. A run of 100,000 — 200,000 is considered "lucky" by Weber. He concedes that he does not expect direct-to-disc albums to go gold in the near future.

Weber is quick to point out that although his previous direct-to-disc projects have been with jazz artists, the process is not in the least restricted to jazz. His next direct-to-disc project will be a rock 'n' roll record, according to Weber. "I am interested in technical excellence but I am also interested in 'money music' and I think there are many pop artists whose careers could benefit from recording direct-to-disc."
